U. S. BUILDING SUB KILLERS

Solution to U-Boat Threat Seen in New Type of Fast Warship.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Fresh hope that allied sea forces will be able to crush Germany's reinforced U-boat fleet this summer was expressed by naval authorities today after Secretary Knox disclosed a new fleet of submarine killer ships at last was coming down the ways on a mass production schedule.

Several score of the sleek little vessels, known in the Navy as destroyer escorts, already have been launched, the secretary told a press conference, and hundreds of others are being or will be built. Each ship requires about four months for construction, less than half the time necessary to build a regular destroyer.

Crews are being trained to match the speed of construction and the first DE squadrons should be in operation soon—later to be organized into teams of ships—Knox said.

These teams of sub killers, working in close cooperation with planes and blimps where possible, are considered by some well-qualified authorities to be the answer to the Nazis' vaunted and deadly U-boat wolf-pack methods.

That they will be badly needed in the Atlantic this spring and summer is accepted, for all evidence indicates the German Navy has prepared an unparalleled undersea offensive againt allied Atlantic shipping.

Already Admiral Karl Doenitz, Nazi naval chief and U-boat expert, has an average of more than 100 underseas craft on constant duty in the Atlantic, and this number is expected to be increased.

Secretary Knox said recently the Germans had 300 to 400 U-boats available for service; most other authorities have placed the total much higher.

The DE's are bigger than the British Corvette types and generally more powerful. A DE costs about $3,500,000—half the price of a destroyer.

A destroyer may range in tonnage from about 1,200 to more than 2,000. The DE is rated at 1,300 tons. Its armament includes light deck guns but emphasis is on depth charges and anti-aircraft guns. Torpedo tubes are included.

Knox discussed the destroyer escort program at a press conference at which he also reported February set production records for both ships and aircraft.

More than 1,400 planes were built for the navy.

There were 130 new combat ships constructed, totaling 200,000 tons; 20 cargo ships converted to combat use—probably as auxiliary aircraft carriers although Knox did not say

To Pay Eleventh Loan Co. Dividend

Payment of an eleventh dividend, amounting to 10 per cent, has been authorized in common pleas court in the liquidating of the Peoples Building Savings & Loan Co.

The latest dividend will amount to $28,600 and will bring total payments to $271,700, or 95% since the liquidation proceedings started on June 27, 1940.

Payments will start in from 15 to 20 days and will be made at the office of Karl W. Schell of 123½ West Center street, special representative of W. W. Wheaton of Columbus, liquidation agent in charge.

The entry seeking authorization of the dividend was filed by Donithen & Michel, attorneys for the company.

Krupp Works in Essen Target of RAF Raiders

British Keep Up Nightly Air Raids Which Started Feb. 24; Fourteen Planes Reported Lost.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 6—Royal air force bombers made a "very heavy and concentrated" attack on the great German industrial center of Essen last night in the tenth consecutive night of assaults against targets either in Germany or Nazi-held Europe, the air ministry announced today.

Fourteen of the big British bombers failed to return from the trip to Essen, it was announced, indicating perhaps 300 planes took part in the raid.

First reports from the German radio indicated the blows were heavy and several other towns in addition to Essen were hit. A DNB report heard by The Associated Press said 14 British bombers were shot down, the claim tallying exactly with the British communique. "Last night aircraft of the bomber command made a very heavy and concentrated attack on Essen," the air ministry communique said. "Fourteen of our bombers are missing."

The site of a Krupp armament works employing 175,000 persons, Essen has been raided 52 times.

No Letup Since Feb. 24

The RAF bomber command has not missed a night in bombing some of the principal industrial, transport and U-boat centers of Germany and France since the Wilhelmshaven raid the night of Feb. 24.

The DNB dispatch said several localities in western Germany were hit and "civil buildings" were destroyed and losses inflicted on the civilian population.

Soon after the British bombers crossed the channel bound for the continent, huge flashes were seen in the direction of the French coast. Explosions rattled windows on the British coast.

Returning Canadian pilots described one "colossal explosion" in Essen that sent flames hundreds of feet in the air and lighted the interior of the attacking bombers. They said they believed it came either from a Krupp powder factory or an ammunition dump.

The 40-minute concentrated assault left several square miles of Essen burning so furiously that the fires were visible from 160 miles away, observers reported.

Referring to the great explosion that highlighted the raid, Flight Sergeant Gill Beevo of Wetaskiwin, Alberta, said: "It appeared to have been a 4,000-pound bomb going off and I think it must have

BROWN CALLS PARLEY ON PRICE CONTROL

Program Discussed with Key Congressional Leaders.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—As Price Administrator Prentiss Brown made plans to hold a policy huddle with key congressional committees, these developments were noted on the price and rationing front today:

Reports were heard the government was ready to raise the ceiling price on corn;

Ceilings were placed on retail sales of pork, effective April 1, with similar ones to be worked out on all meats;

Grocers were given authority for emergency purchases of canned, frozen and dried fruits and vegetables;

And southeastern pulpwood was placed under price control.

Members of the senate banking and finance committees disclosed Brown had invited them in for a thorough review of price control. Chairman George (D-Ga) and Wagner (D-NY) of the two groups named five men each to sit in on the session, which they said probably would air controversies over reported OPA attempts to control industrial profits and its various farm price orders.

Meanwhile, from authoritative sources which declined to be quoted by name came reports the corn price ceiling soon would be raised from $1 to $1.08 a bushel, Chicago basis, in a move to ward off threats to the nation's milk, beef and poultry production. These sources said the office of economic stabilization had decided to authorize OPA to make the increase after being told by representatives of feeders and feed processors a market supply shortage of corn was threatening milk and livestock production.

Along with the pork ceilings, a "guinea pig" regulation on beef for the San Francisco area was authorized by OPA as the federal battle against meat black markets got underway.

15,000 JAPS DIE IN SEA BATTLE

Wreckage and Oil Slicks Only Traces of Ships Left After Engagement.

By The Associated Press

In the Far Pacific, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters painted a vivid picture of utter destruction inflicted upon a 22-ship Japanese convoy in which more than 15,000 enemy troops lost their lives in the waters of the Bismarck area.

An official epilogue of the great allied sea-air victory declared bits if wreckage and oil stains on the water were all that remained today of the Japanese sea-borne force that attempted to reach New Guinea from New Britain.

Long-range allied fighters and bombers swept the entire area yesterday, completing a final mop-up of barges, lifeboats and rafts from sunken ships, and General MacArthur announced:

"There was scarcely a survivor so far as was known."

The three-day-saga of destruction ended yesterday when an allied flier dropped his bombs on three boats loaded with 200 Japanese soldiers, and messaged his base: "No survivors."

Meanwhile, other nations warplanes blasted anew at the Japanese base at Lae, New Guinea, setting fires visible for 40 miles, and attacked the enemy airdrome at Gasmata, New Britain.

There was no further information on the progress of General MacArthur's ground forces in their drive toward Salamaua, New Guinea, but allied planes machine-gunned Japanese positions to the south in the Warla river sector.

On the Burma front, fighter-escorted RAF bombers raided Japanese-occupied villages in the vicinity of Akyab island, key enemy base on the bay of Bengal, and attacked other targets inland.

Victory Over Japanese Convoy Was Result of Careful Planning

By C. YATES McDANIEL
AP Waar Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, March 6—The grand slam scored by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's airmen against the most ambitious Japanese seaborne attempt to reinforce bases in New Guinea was the result of months of preparation to meet just such a threat.

Two days spent at allied operational bases, where the big blow was conceived and directed, and in the air over the island while swarms of allied planes were roaring back and forth across the Owen Stanley mountains on death-dealing missions, convinced me annihilation of the 22-ship Japanese convoy was achieved by great teamwork between the Australians and the Americans.

A seven-hour aerial tour—with an escort of Kittyhawks off Papuan bases during the height of the Bismarck sea battle and many minutes spent circling the big airdromes waiting for warplane traffic to ease long enough to permit our transport to land also showed the great battle teamwork. This coordination was made possible by the Herculean achievement of transforming sections of the mountain wilderness of eastern New Guinea into fighter and bomber landing strips.

The spirit prevailing around Port Moresby during the battle—from the grease monkey to the highest commanders—was more like that found in a football bowl during a Thanksgiving day game than would be expected around a war base.

That "annihilation" spirit mounted as victory returns came in the telephone interrupting my conversation with an American general directing operations.

"You say there are several hundred Japanese drifting in boats or on rafts out there?" the general asked of the reporting officer. "Then send a formation of Beaufighters out to kill some more."

Not content with partial success of high level bombing attacks made earlier on Japanese convoys, the air headquarters and the pilots agreed beforehand that this time mast-height strikes would be the order of the day.

How closely the pilots carried out the orders is illustrated by pictures they took of intended and stricken victims. I examined one picture taken from an attacking plane looking right down the funnels of a Japanese destroyer during a strafing run. The picture showed dead and wounded Japanese slumped around one gun. Another sailor was trying vainly to swing his pompom around to bear upon the Douglas Boston which was raking the enemy vessel from stem to stern.

REDS OCCUPY 144 VILLAGES IN TWO DAYS

Russian Offensive Gains Ground Down Old Road of Napoleon's Defeat.

By The Associated Press

Russia's snow-balling offensive was credited today with the recapture of more than 144 towns and villages in two days and a vast new German retreat appeared to be developing on the central front as the Red armies struck down upon the old Napoleonic "escape corridor" from Moscow to Smolensk.

Cutting southward from fallen Rzhev, the Russians were reported to have retaken the rail town of Asuga and driven within 45 miles of the German stronghold of Gzhatsk, 100 miles west of Moscow, on the highway to Smolensk.

It was along this route that Napoleon led his battered army in the retreat from Czarist Russia in 1812.

Occupy 80 Settlements

Soviet troops operating southwest of Rzhev continued their push, occupying more than 80 settlements in this forest filled area within the last 24 hours.

(Combined with drives in sectors south of the central front, Russian forces in two days have been reported sweeping more than 144 communities under the Red flag.)

Before taking Osuga, the Red army had to force German positions on the Osuga river and then blast their way into the railway station.

The troops that took Osuga now are about 15 miles north of the important railway town of Sychevka, which may be in Russian hands although it never has been announced. When the Russians launched their first attacks of the current campaign they cut the railway between Rzhev and Vyazma but did not say where.

Threat To Nazi Flank

Sychevka, halfway between the cities is only 31 miles northwest of Gzhatsk and by holding it the Red army would outflank Gzhatsk, 100 miles west of Moscow on the railroad to Vyazma and Smolensk, and actually the point of the German spear long aimed at Moscow.

The Germans have strong permanent concrete fortifications around the towns and cities they have captured in this area and Gzhatsk is probably as heavily garrisoned for its size as any place along the Russian front.

Southwest of Rzhev heavy fighting was reported along an unidentified stream which dispatches to Red Star, the army newspaper, said the Russian had crossed at several places.

Heavy tank counterattacks were reported.

Germans Report Reds Mauled in Caucasus

By The Associated Press

The German high command declared today two Soviet divisions had been wiped out, others badly mauled and more than 1,000 prisoners taken as Russian attacks at the Kuban bridgehead in the Caucasus were repelled.

The communique, broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by The Associated Press in New York,

REDS THREATEN MORE NAZI BASES. Key German bases from Staraya Russa to Dneperopetrovsk were menaced by Red Army drives all along the far-flung eastern front. Shaded area is approximate territory regained by the Red Army from the Nazi's deepest penetration and the dotted line is the approximate front. A swift Russian drive on the road to Smolensk increased the menace to the German bases of Vyazma and Gzhatsk, while farther south the advancing Russians threatened the Nazi strongholds of Orel and Bryansk.

PUBLIC TOLD HOW TO BEAT BLACK MARKET

Agriculture Department Gives Rules To Follow.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—Here are some of the ways you can help break up meat black markets, as outlined by Agriculture Secretary Wickard:

Learn the regulations—"lots of these persons do not realize that they are violating any order of any kind;"

Check price ceilings and when purchasing watch for illegal prices—sure sign of a black market;

Retailers can look for the permit number stamped on each wholesale cut of meat before buying; and since at least some cuts in butchers' coolers should show the stamp, purchasers can help here, too;

Keep an eye out for private markets which spring up outside regular channels—often indicative of an illegal trade;

In buying or selling livestock, keep careful records and check those connected with your dealings.

The permit numbers stamped on meat, starting April 1, will be issued by county agricultural war boards (formerly called AAA committees) in towns and small cities, and by local offices of the food distribution administration in large cities. These numbers will be issued in connection with permits slaughterers must obtain in order to operate legally.

COMMISSIONER VACANCY TO BE FILLED MONDAY

Successor to U. F. Zachman Being Named by Officials.

A successor to U. F. Zachman, Marion county commissioner whose death occurred Wednesday, will be named Monday by the three county officials, auditor, probate judge and recorder, designated by state law to make the selection. The appointee will serve until a successor is elected in November, 1944.

Mr. Zachman, whose funeral was held this afternoon, began his second four-year term as a member of the board of commissioners Jan. 1 this year.

According to an unofficial report a successor to Mr. Zachman has been selected but formal announcement will not be issued until Monday. Officials making the selection are Harry V. Mounts, auditor, Oscar Gast, probate judge and Mrs. Grace Zachman, recorder.

FARMER DRAFT ACTION URGED

Prospect of Food Shortage Causes Growing Concern on Capital Hill.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—Growing alarm over potential food shortages today set off a congressional race for remedial manpower legislation and brought a farm bloc demand for prompt executive action on the production program.

Appeals were heard on Capitol Hill for quick decisions on bills to keep agriculture labor on the farms and to mobilize a non-combatant army of 65,000,000 men and women for war production.

Simultaneously, an unofficial farm bloc organization composed of one representative from each state planned to take to the White House a demand government agency heads dealing with farm problems be required to reach quick agreement on a coordinated food production program.

Draft Protests Heard

Also heard in congress were protests against drafting fathers and that military leaders were "ignoring" the nation's manpower limits in planning an armed force of 11,000,000 this year.

In the wake of announcements of price ceilings on pork—to be followed by similar maximums on other meats—and new controls over the slaughter of livestock and sale of meat, Agriculture Secretary Wickard called on the American people to help break up the black markets.

8 MORE CONCERNS ON RED CROSS HONOR ROLL

Reach or Exceed Quotas in $36,000 Campaign.

Eight more concerns were added today to the honor roll of organizations that made or topped their quotas in the Marion County Red Cross chapter drive for a $36,000 war fund.

They are the Scioto Ordnance Plant, Betty Zane Corn Products, Inc., Peerless Cleaners, Fetter Coal Co., Home Federal Loan Co., Edwin K. Smith Home for Funerals, Rieser grocery and National City bank.

Amounts raised were not reported but will be included in the report meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 in the war fund headquarters at 130 East Center street.

The first report showed more than $16,000 raised in the first three days of the drive.

J. D. Torrance, drive chairman, and Red Cross officials urge that workers complete their work and have their reports made by Tuesday afternoon.

BRITISH FALL BACK UNDER HEAVY ATTACK

American Capture of Pichon Considered Most Important African Development.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, March 6—In the face of weeks of strong German attacks, the British first army abandoned Sedjenane yesterday, falling back seven miles to higher ground at Tamera, it was announced today, but American forward elements moved eastward at the center and occupied Pichon in an advance which was regarded as the most important of the day.

The British withdrawal from hard-contested Sedjenane gave the Germans a total 20-mile advance along the Bizertel-Mateur-Tabarka coastal road in seven days of fighting. Sedjenane previously had changed hands twice, the Germans occupying the town Wednesday, but being driven out Thursday.

The allied communique did not touch upon the First army retreat in that sector, saying simply that in northern Tunisia "enemy activity was on a reduced scale."

Pichon, which allied forward elements entered yesterday, is 20 miles west of the Nazi base at Kairouan.

United States armored units occupied Pichon, which lies in the Oued Ellia valley at the front of the last ridge of mountains in eastern Tunisia, in an advance which military observers regarded as the most important of the day.

Lost Territory Regained

The Americans rolled into Pichon about 4:30 p. m. yesterday to regain almost all the territory lost before the original axis drive in this area and to convert the valley and the top ridges of the secondary Tunisian dorsal into a vast no-man's-land.

Allied forces had withdrawn from the town when their right flank was threatened by Marshal Rommel's thrust through Faid pass to Kasserine gap in mid-February.

Now concentrated in the Mareth line sector, Rommel's forces were reported engaged in vigorous patrol activity as he and Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery seated rival positions.

The British shortened their line in the north, giving up a wild and desolate section of country which sources here said was of no great strategic importance in the withdrawal from Sedjenane.

As long as the Germans are blocked from Beja, 22 miles to the south which is the key to the road to the Medjez-El-Bab front, the reverse means little except for the losses in equipment, officers said.

French Advance

In the south, patrols from Gen. Henri Giraud's forces pushed eastward along the rim of the Chott Djerid salt marsh toward Tozeur, 45 miles southwest of Gafsa, with little opposition.

Thirty axis tanks were reported to have been destroyed since Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim began his attacks in the north.

The allies were declared to be carrying out vigorous patrol activity in all sectors and have made small local gains other than in the Pichon sector.

"In the south, on the Eighth army front, patrol activity continued and enemy working parties were successfully engaged by our artillery," the communique said.

Bad weather restricted aerial activity yesterday, the war bulletin reported.

Sedjenane controls a railroad and highway from Mateur, below Bizerte, to Tabarka on the coast 50 miles to the southwest.

While axis Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces in the fortified Mareth positions in southern Tunisia gathered themselves for what was expected to be a showdown with the British Eighth army, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's men in a feder brush with axis troops were reported to have inflicted "very heavy losses—heavy enough to remember."

Marion Churches Prepare for Lenten Season Opening

Mid-Week Services Arranged for Observance of Ash Wednesday; Season Comes Late This Year.

With the opening of the Lenten season Wednesday the minds of church congregations everywhere are turned to anticipation of Easter with the notation that the celebration is late this year, April 25 being the latest possible date on which Easter can fall.

Many churches in Marion and Marion county already have planned Easter, along with Lenten services, and some will have Ash Wednesday services next week, marking the beginning of Lent.

Opening 40 days before Easter, counting Sundays, thus always on a Wednesday, Lent opens on March 10 this year, which is the latest possible date on which Ash Wednesday can fall. This has not happened since 1886 and will not happen again in the twentieth century.

How Day Is Set

The date of Easter is determined by the time of the appearance of the first full moon in spring, falling on the first Sunday after the first full moon appears. This year the moon will be full on April 14, which is Sunday. Easter can be as early as March 22 if the moon is full on March 21 and if that day is Saturday, but this has not happened since 1818. Lent opens 40 days before Easter, not counting Sundays, which falls always on a Wednesday designated in the church calendar as "Ash-Wednesday."

Because of the wide fluctuation in the dates on which Easter may fall from year to year the British parliament in 1928 passed a permissive statute with the purpose of bringing Easter within the "orderly scope of a solar measurement of time," determining provisionally that it should be the first Sunday after the second Saturday in April. This would reduce the range of variation less than a week. The change was to await international consent that has so far not been obtained.

Schedule of Services

Lenten services in Marion include series of weekly devotional periods in Emanuel Lutheran church and Salem and First Evangelical and Reformed churches. Several Ash Wednesday services will be held next week.

An Ash Wednesday service in the Emanuel church will be conducted at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday with Rev. M. E. Hollensen speaking on "Christ Endured the Upper Room," the first in a series of sermons on the subject "It Was for Me." Rennex Van Scoy, senior theological student at Capital university, Columbus, will assist in administering holy communion. Harding High school Girl Reserves will be guests tomorrow morning in the services at 10:30. Rev. Hollensen will preach on "Why Then Is This People Slidden Back?"

Rev. H. E. Ahrens of Salem Evangelical and Reformed church will preach the first of a series of Lenten sermons on "The Sermon on the Mount" tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. "The Salt of the Earth" will be his subject.

Mid-week Lenten services in the Salem church will begin with the Ash Wednesday observance at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday. A candle light communion service will be conducted and Rev. Ahrens' subject will be "I Believe in God," the first on the general theme "I Believe." Choir members will present special music.

Thursday Service

In First Evangelical and Reformed church tomorrow Rev. E. H. Wierth will speak on "Jesus Foretells His Suffering" in the services at 10:30 a. m. Opening of the Lenten season will be observed Thursday at 7:30 p. m. with a special service, first of a series of weekly services having the presentation of Christian fundamentals as a background. Rev. Wierth will speak on "God, Man and Christ," and on the foundation of the general theme a discussion and consideration of phases of the theme will be carried through by the congregation.

Tomorrow morning Rev. Eldred Johnston of Central Christian church will preach on "Keynotes of Lent" in the service at 10.

St. Paul Lutheran church at Bellefontaine avenue and Windsor street will observe Ash Wednesday with a service at 7:30 Wednesday night.

Joint Services Set

The Forest Lawn Presbyterian church and the First Church of the Brethren will unite in a series of joint mid-week Lenten services. The first of this series will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Forest Lawn church. Rev. E. M. Hertzler, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, will preach on the theme, "A Call to Penitence." Special music will be furnished by the choir of Forest Lawn church. These joint services of the two congregations of the east part of the city will continue each Wednesday throughout Lent. The place of service will alternate between the two churches from week to week.

St. Mary Schedule

The blessing of the ashes will precede the 8:30 o'clock mass at St. Mary Catholic church Wednesday morning. Ashes will be distributed at this mass and again in the evening at 7:30 o'clock when there will be a sermon followed by benediction.

Because of the rationing of food this year Bishop John T. McNicholas, of Cincinnati, has dispensed with the fast and abstinence from meat during the Lenten season. Ash Wednesday will be observed as a day of fasting and abstinence and Friday, observed as a day of fast and abstinence throughout the Lenten season, will, with the exception of Good Friday be a day of abstinence only this year. Good Friday, as Ash Wednesday, will be a day of fasting and abstinence from meat.

Special services during the Lenten season in St. Paul Episcopal church will be conducted on Wednesday evening each week until Easter at 7:30 and holy communion administered in the chapel each Friday morning at 10. Rev. S. S. Hardy, rector, announced. The Wednesday services will begin next week with the Ash Wednesday observance.

Marion Churches To Mark World Day of Prayer

World Day of Prayer will be observed by the churches of Marion with a special two-hour service beginning at 2 p. m. next Friday at the Trinity Baptist church on South Main street.

The meeting is sponsored by the Marion Council of United Church Women with a committee composed of Mrs. E. E. Patten, Mrs. E. M. Hertzler and Mrs. P. E. Smoke in charge. World Day of Prayer has been observed annually on each first Friday in Lent for the last 25 years in 51 different countries around the world. Previous to that, beginning in 1887, it was kept as a Day of Prayer for home missions in the United States.

Dr. Georgia Harkness and Mrs. Benjamin Mays were chosen by the national committee to prepare the program and they selected as a theme, "Father, I pray that they may all be one." Three-quarters of a million copies of the program have been printed and distributed for use in America alone and last year there were 10,000 localities in the United States and Canada where the Day of Prayer was observed.

CHURCH COUNCIL TO MAP SUMMER PLANS

County Organization To Elect Full Staff of Officers.

A called meeting of the Marion County Council of Churches to complete organization and consider items of the summer and fall program will be held Monday at 7:45 p. m. in the Assembly room of the Marion Y. M. C. A., Rev. E. M. Hertzler of First Church of the Brethren, Marion, chairman of the Council, will be in charge.

Representatives of congregations affiliated in the Council will meet to consider adoption of the re-drafted constitution, elect a full staff of officers and discuss city and countywide Daily Vacation Bible school and preaching mission programs. Evaluation of the recent County Leadership Training school will be made and plans for providing a similar school next year will be discussed, in addition to questions raised by representatives.

Churches who have not yet affiliated with the Council are welcome to be present at the session, Rev. Hertzler said.

SALVATION ARMY ISSUES CALL FOR YOUNG WOMEN

100 Needed for Life Service in Various Phases of Work.

An urgent call has been issued by Commissioner Ernest I. Pugmire, eastern territorial commander of the Salvation Army, from territorial headquarters, New York City, for the immediate enlistment of 100 consecrated Christian women between the ages of 18 and 30 years for life service in various branches of the Army work, according to a statement issued today by Major J. Heard of the local corps.

"Because of the drafting of the nation's manpower by the government," Commissioner Pugmire stated, "young women are needed to keep the home front intact, to aid the men of our armed forces in the various camps, USO clubs, and different centers, and to assist in the rehabilitation of broken lives and homes."

The life enlistments also include specialized work as nurses, nurses' aides for 18 hospitals, clinics, children's homes, settlements and day nurseries; visitation to the sick; family welfare; case work; training of young people; and spiritual activities in one or more of 368 community centers.

Applications in writing should be made to Major J. Heard, 403 West Center street, Marion, Ohio.

YOUNG GROUP IN CHARGE OF METHODIST SERVICE

To Arrange Evening Program at Epworth Church.

The Youth Fellowship of Epworth Methodist church will sponsor the church service tomorrow evening at 7:30 when Dr. Robert O. McClure of Lima, district superintendent, will speak. Miss Marguerite Williamson will preside. Mrs. Alberta Klinger will read the Scripture and George Brown will offer prayer. Paul Showers will assist Ray Eaton Jr. in ushering.

The Vernon Heights Junior High School choir will sing under the direction of Miss Jane Scott accompanied by Barbara Alspach. They will present "Abide With Me" by Monk and the Negro spiritual "Every Time I Feel the Spirit."

Following the service an open fellowship hour at Our House will be observed with Dr. and Mrs. McClure as guests. Dick Kennecy and Nancy Schneider will be in charge. A hymn sing will be included in the program.

"How Shall We Pray?" will be the subject for the Junior church service in the church at 10.45 a. m. tomorrow. Miss Margaret Huffman will lead consideration of the topic and a "chemical shop demonstration" conducted by George Smith will illustrate the temperance story.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO CONDUCT SERVICE

Trinity Baptist Church To Mark Youth Sunday.

The young people of the Trinity Baptist church will take over many of the offices and conduct the services at the Sunday school and evening worship tomorrow in observance of Youth Sunday. During the closing exercises of Sunday school Arthur Holloway will preside as superintendent, Richard Milligan will offer prayer and Alice Maio will sing a solo. Keith McMurray will give a short talk. Several young people will share the time with teachers during the lesson period. Edna Pfleiderer will teach for Mrs. E. E. Patten, Virginia Albert for Mrs. Frank Koconsperger, Vivian Loyer for Mrs. John Birch, Geneva Albert for Miss Florence Durfee, Delmer Brewer for Miles Babcock and Arthur Holloway for James Reed.

Following the Young People's society meeting at 6:30 p. m. a group of young people will take charge of the evening worship service with Delmer Brewer presiding. Leta Poling will read the Scripture and June Holloway will offer the evening prayer. Bob Wingett will sing a solo. The pastor, Rev. J. B. Holloway, will speak on "Finding One's Life Work."

At the morning worship service the Lord's Supper will be observed and several new members will be received and assigned "big brothers and big sisters." June Holloway will sing "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked" by Geoffrey O'Hara. The morning sermon will be taken from the book of I Samuel on "Staying By The Stuff." The choir, under direction of Mrs. Eugene Moore, will sing "Peace, Perfect Peace" by J. LaMont, with Miss Wanda McMahan at the organ.

To Teachers

A SERMONETTE

By REV. ELDRED JOHNSTON
Pastor of Central Christian Church

* * *

AS CHRISTIAN teachers your task is not that of imparting your opinions, but of kindling minds; not yours to load your ideas on to the minds of others, but to set their minds on fire with faith by giving them a vision of the purpose and love of God.

Don't you almost shudder as you consider your tremendous responsibility? Scratch the green rind of a sapling or twist it in the soil, and a scarred or crooked oak will bear witness for centuries to this deed caused by your laziness, your impatience, your neglect.

But, on the other hand, when your work is well done what a thrill of satisfaction!

He built a house, time laid it in the dust;
He wrote a book, its tale now forgot;
He ruled a city, but his name is not
On any table graven, or where rust
Can gather from disuse, or marble bust.
He took a child from out a wretched cot,
Who on the state dishonor might have brought,
And reared him to the Christian's hope and trust
The boy, to manhood grown, became a light
To many souls, and preached for human need
The wondrous love of the Omnipotent.
The work has multiplied like stars at night
When darkness deepens; every noble deed
Lasts longer than a granite monument

We have honored you with a high trust. You hold within your hands the power by which this world can be transformed into the Kingdom of God. The Kingdom cannot come until the lives and hearts of men are ready for it. This is your task—the preparation of men's minds for the Community of God and the motivation of their hands to its work.

Entrusted with the kindling and with the guidance of the most sacred of all things, the human soul, you cannot, you must not, give less than your best. You must continue to grow in your own soul. The great preacher, Jowett was once asked if he did not find it difficult to preach; he replied, "I do not find it nearly so difficult to preach as I do to prepare myself to be fit to preach." You must keep your character beyond reproach. What you do throughout the week shouts so loudly that your pupils cannot hear what you say on Sunday morning. You must be humble. John the Baptist said in deep humility in reference to Jesus: "He must increase; I must decrease." That, exactly, should be the attitude of the teacher. It is said that the test of a successful minister (and it applies equally well to a teacher) is this: Not how many are devoted to him when he leaves his parish, but how many have he left devoted to Christ?

Lord, who am I to teach the way
To little children day by day
So prone myself to go astray?
I teach them knowledge but I know
How faint the flicker and how low
The candles of my knowledge glow.
I teach them power to will and do,
But only now to learn anew
My own great weakness through and through.
Lord, if their guide I still must be,
Oh, let the little children see
The teacher leaning hard on Thee

WAAC Recruiting Officer To Visit Marion Weekly

LT. ANN DUFFY

* * *

Lt. Ann Duffy, Women's Army Auxiliary Corps recruiting officer from Fort Hayes, was in Marion yesterday in the interest of establishing a recruiting headquarters.

Following conferences with Postmaster L. L. Lamborn and Mrs. L. M. Sherman of the American Legion auxiliary, announcement was made that a WAAC recruiting officer and a member of the Legion auxiliary will be at the postoffice one day a week to accept applications.

Date when the active recruiting will start will be announced soon.

Throughout the country the Legion auxiliary has been designated a WAAC recruiting agency. Locally the work has been assigned to Mrs. Sherman, vice president of the auxiliary.

Lieutenant Duffy, working under the supervision of the district commander, Capt. Frank Ruvio of Fort Hayes, is in charge of recruiting at Delaware, Marion, Bucyrus, Mt. Vernon, Cambridge, Zanesville, Newark and Columbus.

A former resident of Cleveland, Lieutenant Duffy before her enlistment last summer at Fort Hayes, had been employed in the Ohio house of representatives and also had worked in the department of justice in Washington, D. C., and the office of the attorney general of Ohio.

She trained at Fort Des Moines, Ia., and was in the first group of auxiliaries selected from the ranks and trained as officers. She completed her training and was commissioned a second lieutenant on Dec. 24. Since Jan. 18 she has been assigned to Fort Hayes, headquarters of the Fifth Service Command.

OHIO FARM SALES SHOW BIG INCREASE

72 Per Cent Gain Over 1941 Reported.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 6—Auction sales of Ohio farm land and livestock increased 72 per cent over 1941, an Ohio State university rural economist reported today.

Assistant Prof. John Sidderly said a survey of 32 representative farm newspapers showed notices of public sales increased from 381 during August, September and October, 1941, to 655 for the same period last year.

Describing rural newspapers as a barometer of agricultral trends, Sidderly listed as principal reasons for the increase the farm labor shortage, draft of farmers and workers and high prices that attracted older farmers desiring to sell out and retire.

He indicated the figures might explain the scarcity of milk products experienced in some sections of Ohio in recent months.

Of the 381 sales notices in 1941, a total of 331 were sufficiently detailed to show 3,024 milk cows and bred heifers were offered, an average of 9.1 per sale. Last year 575 of the 655 sales listed showed 5,793 milk cows and bred heifers offered, a 10.1 average. On that basis, Siddely estimated the increase of cow and heifers sales listed in 1942 over 1941 at 91 per cent.

Officers at Marion Engineer Depot Come from 12 States, 11 Colleges

Nineteen Engineer Corps Officers on Duty Including Seven Who Arrived in Recent Weeks.

Twelve states and 11 different colleges or universities are represented by the 19 Engineer Corps officers on duty at the Marion Engineer Depot, records of Lieut. Col. C. B. Shaffer, commanding officer, show.

Pennsylvania is the home state of three of the officers, and Ohio, New Jersey and Virginia of two each.

The list of officers, their home state and the college or university from which they graduated follows:

Lieut. Col. Shaffer, Delaware, University of Delaware; Maj. G. B. DuBois, District of Columbia, Lafayette college; Maj. J. A. Wilson, Indiana, University of Illinois; Maj. F. E. Jones, Kansas, University of Kansas; Capt. J. M. Powell, Pennsylvania, Ohio Northern university; Capt. H. P. Noble Jr., Virginia, V. P. I.; Capt. V. L. Denunzio, Kentucky, Colorado School of Mines; Capt C. W. Danis, Ohio, Cornell university; Lt. E. R. Cooper, Alabama; Lt. W. H. Steinmeyer, Pennsylvania, Carnegie Institute of Technology; Lt. I. C. Widmyer, Virginia; Lt. E. R. Ostergren, New Jersey; Lt. S. W. Hendershott, Iowa; Lt. J. E. Cashman, Vermont, V. M. I.; Lt. R. O. Kutz, Pennsylvania; Lt. J. J. Knueven, Ohio; Lt. R. R. Ong, Missouri; Lt. R. H. True, Wyoming; Lt. E. M. Weiner, New Jersey, Rutgers University. All of these officers are in the Engineer Corps. In addition, Lt. F. E. Richard, of the Air Corps, is now stationed at the Depot. He was born in New Jersey.

Included in this list is a cadre of seven officers received in recent weeks. The seven includes Major Forrest E. Jones, who was assigned to the Marion Engineer Depot from the Engineer Field Maintenance school, of which he was director, at the Columbus Quartermaster Depot, Engineer Section. Major Jones is a veteran of World War I and has had considerable experience with troops in the present conflict. He is a student of equipment maintenance, one of the vital factors in the operation of an Army. Also in the new group are Lieutenants Ostergren, Ong, Kutz, Knueven, True and Weiner. All of the officers are graduates of the Engineer Supply School operated by the Corps of Engineers at Granite City, Illinois.

Recent Depot activities included the vaccination of some 400 civilian employes during the week of Feb. 22 by First Lieut. A. C. Wyker of Camp Millard, Bucyrus. The vaccination program was conducted without the loss of one person from work during the post-vaccination period, Col. Shaffer reported.

Ration Book Totals Listed

Rural Figure of 12,255 Brings Marion County No. 2 Book Total to 45,361.

A total of 12,255 War Ration Books No. 2 were issued to rural Marion county residents Tuesday through Friday last week, making a total of 45,361 issued in Marion city and county, the county rationing office reported today. During the same period 33,106 were issued in the city.

Declarations for the four-day registration totaled 15,285 for the county, including 3,925 in the rural area.

Excess cans, bottles, and jars of dried, frozen and canned fruits and vegetables totaled 32,763. Of this number 5,972 were declared by rural residents and 26,791 by city residents. Stamps were removed from the ration books for these totals. Excesses for which stamps were not removed totaled 7,097, including 745 in the county and 6,352 in the city. A total of 240 pounds of coffee was declared in excess for the entire county with city residents reporting 175 pounds and rural residents 65.

Persons who did not register during the four-day period in which the city and county schools were open for registration must wait until March 15 to get their books. They will be distributed from the county rationing board office at 169½ East Center street.

VICTORY FUND DRIVE MAPPED

Forces in Area Combined for New War Financing Campaign in April.

CLEVELAND, March 5—Details of the organization to conduct the United States treasury's gigantic April war financing campaign in the Fourth Federal Reserve District were announced today by M. J. Fleming, president of the Fourth Federal Reserve Bank. The combined efforts of the Victory Fund Committees and the War Savings Staffs will be mobilized in preparation for and during the drive under Mr. Fleming's direction, acting under the authority vested in him by Secretary Morgenthau.

Mr. Fleming today appointed the following advisory committee to be known as the United States Treasury War Finance Committee for the Fourth Federal Reserve District of which he will be chairman and John S. Fleek will be executive manager: Allan Clark, deputy administrator, War Saving Staff for Western Pennsylvania; W. H. Courtney, Area No. 6 chairman, Victory Fund Committee, of Lexington, Ky.; John S. Fleek, executive manager, Victory Fund Committee; M. J. Fleming, chairman, Victory Fund Committee; J. H. McCoy, area No. 4 chairman, Victory Fund Committee, of Columbus; Roy D. Moore, Ohio State administrator, War Savings Staff; E. S. Patterson, area chairman, Victory Fund Committee, of Cleveland; Lee C. Paul Sr., representing West Virginia War Saving Staff; J. T. Rohr, Area No. 5 chairman Victory Fund Committee, of Toledo; J. J. Rowe, Area No. 3 chairman Victory Fund Committee, of Cincinnati; Clarence Stanley, Area No. 2 chairman Victory Fund Committee, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Philip Trounstine, Ohio State chairman, War Savings Staff; Ben J. Williamson, Kentucky State administrator War Savings Staff.

A sub-committee to facilitate liaison between the Victory Fund Committees and the War Savings Staffs will consist of Mr. Fleming, Mr. Fleek and Mr. Trounstine.

The two existing organizations will preserve their separate identities but are expected to give their full support to the mobilization of manpower and the coordination of every selling effort for the over all objective. The campaign will be known as the second Victory Loan drive.

Date for its start has been announced by Secretary Morgenthau as April 12. Quota for the nation has been set at $13,000,000,000. In Washington the campaign will be headed by W. M. Robbins recently appointed assistant to the secretary of the treasury who will act as national director of sales.

Republic Steel Builds Additional Capacity

CLEVELAND, March 5—Republic steel corporation's annual report to stockholders said construction of additional capacity involving expenditure of approximately $165,000,000 under wartime costs had been undertaken at government request.

"Important among these projects are four new blast furnaces with coke ovens and other necessary facilities, a complete electric furnace plant and additional electric furnaces at present plants," said President R. J. Wysor. "A number of smaller projects at various plant locations are either under construction or were placed in operation during 1942," he added.

Chairman T. M. Girdler said the new facilities were financed and owned by the government but operated under lease by Republic. The corporation, operating at 99.6 per cent of capacity last year, produced 8,397,206 tons of steel, both new records, the report stated.

NAZIS USE NEW BOMB

LONDON, March 6—The ministry of home security has warned Britons against a small new anti-personnel bomb dropped by Nazi planes, saying a number were dropped recently and that they might be scattered over a wide area. The bombs are the size of a round cigaret can, weigh about four pounds and may explode at the slightest touch, the ministry said.

CALL FOURTH TERM TALK OUT OF PLACE

Both Democrats and Republicans Make Protests.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—A suggestion by Senator Guffey (D-Pa.) that no tradition bars a fourth term for President Roosevelt if the American people want to keep him in office prompted from both Democratic and Republican senators today the protest that this is no time to talk politics.

Guffey told the senate yesterday in a prepared speech reviewing Mr. Roosevelt's accomplishments during 10 years in the White House that the American people "judge our presidents by what they do and what they are, keep them and get rid of them to suit ourselves, not to suit the convenience of party ambition or politics as usual." Senator Brooks (R-Ill.) told reporters he interpreted Guffey's statement that there is "no American tradition which says a good president cannot serve four terms in the White House" as further evidence that some Democrats were trying to inject politics into the war effort.

"The New Dealers are constantly injecting politics into the war situation and blaming the other fellow for doing it," he declared.

"Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), a long-time supporter of the President's policies, said he thought it was no time for either Democrats or Republicans to be talking about politics. The Republicans are just as active in politics as the Democrats, he asserted.

Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind.) disagreed with Guffey on the question of tradition and said he didn't think the American people were or should be interested in politics when the war was in a critical stage. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said political campaigns should be brief in wartime, but added he had no doubt that if the war still was going on in 1944, Mr. Roosevelt would be a candidate for reelection.

"If he is the Democratic nominee, it will be a close and hard fight, but I think the Republican nominee will win," he said.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

BACK UP OUR BOYS

Editor of The Star: Our boys fly planes, drive tanks, sail ships, command the guns. Yes, that's what our boys do.

Our boys also work in factories and plants but the most important work is on the front. Yes, that's what our boys do and a lot more, so if you can't get in the armed forces, if you are working fill those half-filled stamp books. Yes, that's one of the things you can do to help our boys, so buy War Bonds and Stamps today.

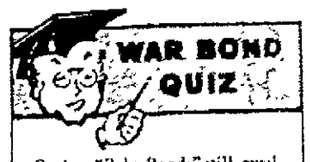
Where You Have the Greatest Choice of Canned and Frozen Foods



Q. Are "Baby Bonds" still available?

A. No. They have been succeeded by Series E War Bonds, the terms of which are substantially the same.

Q. In what denominations are Series E Bonds available?

A. They are issued in denominations of $25, $50, $100, $500, and $1,000 (maturity value).

Q. How may I keep Stamps while I am accumulating them?

By Gib Crockett.

A. An album is given free upon request with the first Stamp you buy. Spaces are provided for mounting the Stamps.

Q. Is it permissible to name both coowner and a beneficiary on a War Savings Bond?

A. No. Either a coowner or a beneficiary may be named, but not both.

Q. When a woman who owns Bonds gets married, should she have the Bonds reissued in her married name?

A. The Bonds will be so reissued, if she desires. It is not necessary, however.

Remember—the longer you keep War Bonds, up to 10 years, the more valuable they become.

Missing Hog Dropped 250 Pounds in Month

By The United Press

ALBION, N. Y.—How to reduce? That's easy. Just follow the system used by a hog on the farm of William J. Engall at nearby Lyndonville.

This particular hog lost 250 pounds in about a month.

Recently Mr. Engall discovered an opening in a strawstack and investigated. He pitched away the straw and found a tunnel.

Imagine his surprise when he followed the tunnel and discovered two of his hogs so tightly wedged in that they were unable to turn around.

One hog had been missing for a few days. The other for a month. The former 300-pound animal tipped the scales at but 50 pounds—was still alive and responded to nourishment.

UNIVERSAL HOUSING PERMITS ISSUED

Eleven More Units at $4,500 Each Brings Total to 21.

Eleven additional permits for homes in the Universal Housing Corp. project on Fish avenue, have been issued by Mrs. Mayme Gorton, city clerk.

The newest homes will be built at a cost of $4,500 each, according to the permits. Previously the corporation took out permits for 10 homes, bringing the total of construction in the housing project to 21 homes.

Other permits issued during February are as follows:

Mary Jones, 523 Hartford street, remodel dwelling, $60.

Charles Cockrell, 408 Oilver street, remodel porch, $25.

D. Baker, 601 East George street, shed and garage, $75.

Gerald Miller, West Fairground street, shed $50.

Elva Messenger 158 Scioto street, shed, $25.

William Severns, 661 Marshall street, shed $75.

The passenger pigeon, great auk, heath hen, paroquet and Labrador duck have been exterminated in America.

Basement Fitted Up for Rest and Recreation

The attractive scene above is a basement recreation room, whose floor of Spanish red asphalt tile and natural wood paneling provide an air of cozy warmth that offsets the stone of the foundation wall.

By PATRICIA MONTCLAIR

Now that staying home of an evening is fast becoming a good old American custom, there's only one way to answer the question of whether or not to have a special room ready for holding a family rumpus. The answer, of course, is an emphatic yes. All that needs deciding is whether such a room is to be in the basement or the attic, to be most useful.

Obviously, shortages of materials and labor being what they are, you're not going to aim at any elaborate setup. But by making it a family project, in which everybody helps plan the room and then turns to and does the actual hammer-and-nails work, you'll be surprised to find what an attractive and useful room can be created even by amateurs.

Pictured above is a beautifully designed basement recreation room from which the home planner may be able to draw some workable ideas.

PLUMBING INDUSTRY SAVES ON MATERIALS

Helps Develop Equipment To Conserve Vital Supplies.

Through simplification, substitution, and streamlining of design, the plumbing industry is cooperating with the federal government in finding new ways to save critical metals and yet retain the fundamentals of good sanitation.

While manufacturers have simplified their lines by eliminating certain fixtures and re-designing others to save metal, plumbing contractors have made a substantial contribution to conservation by developing in the "Emergency Plumbing Standards for Defense Housing" an installation technique that saves labor as well as metal.

The government anticipates a saving of at least 100 pounds of metal for each single family housing unit as a result of the application of the Emergency Plumbing Standards.

Manufacturers are helping to save metal by re-designing some fixtures and by eliminating certain styles and sizes.

A new single-shell 5-foot recess wing bath for building-in requires 26 per cent less iron than a similar double shell bath. Lavatories also have been restyled to conserve iron and yet provide low-cost, quality-built fixtures for today's defense housing market.

An active research program to develop satisfactory substitutes for many of the critical metals is now under way in the plumbing industry.

Hevea rubber trees produce 1,500 pounds of pure rubber per acre.

Good Site Is Essential in Any Plans for Garden; Need Plenty of Sunshine

Badly as fresh vegetables will be needed in Ohio this year, no garden should be planted on a site where failure is more probable than success. The factors to be considered in selecting a site are exposure to sunshine, slope, drainage, soil, accessibility, and protection from winds.

D. C. Kiplinger, extension specialist, Ohio State university, says that sunshine is essential in growing a good garden because seeds need warmth for germination and the plants require sunlight to manufacture food. Gardens in shady locations will be only partly satisfactory if all other conditions are good.

Slope is not so important. A south slope will receive the most sunlight and plants will start growth sooner. Any slope will provide air and water drainage, but hilly areas should be avoided because the topsoil is likely to be washed away in heavy rains.

Soil ordinarily is the most important factor affecting plant growth. On city lots, where subsoil from excavations has been placed on the surface, the soil will require conditioning before a good garden can be grown. Well rotted manure, leaf mold, rotted plant residues, peat moss, or muck should be spaded into the soil to provide organic matter and to allow air to enter. Sifted ashes or sand will lighten heavy soils. Gardens on sandy soils may require watering.

Gardens which are distant from the home are likely to be neglected after planting, and it will be inconvenient to gather the vegetables in small quantities when they are the best for eating. It will be better to choose considerably inferior soil near the home than to plant the garden on distant good soil.

In exposed sections, winds will break down tall plants unless they are staked, and staking will require considerable materials and quite a lot of time and labor. A location south of buildings or of a tree windbreak will afford protection from wind.

Within cities, few locations are exposed to damage by winds. Gardens placed near trees probably will require watering because trees draw heavily upon soil moisture and the roots may extend 20 feet or more from the trunk. If trees shade an area more than one-half of each day, the place should not be used for a garden.

Most vegetables do not like wet feet so the garden plot should be well drained. This is difficult in some locations. Low spots always should be avoided. Tile can be laid and connected with the house downspout drain. A ditch 12 or 18 inches deep all around the garden will help remove excess water if an outlet can be obtained.

SUGGESTIONS ON CARING FOR FAUCETS

Have Leaky Ones Repaired at Once, Bureau Urges.

Suggestions on the wartime care of faucets are offered by the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Faucets, the bureau points out, are made of brass. Brass is high on the list of critical materials. No brass faucets are now being made. Every faucet now in use, therefore, must continue in service because it cannot be replaced.

When you shut off a faucet, do it with a firm and deliberate movement of the wrist. Avoid a sharp, abrupt turn. Too much pressure is likely to damage the washer, the seat, or both.

Have leaking faucets fixed promptly. The continuous leaking of water is likely to cut the seat of a faucet. Some types of water, of course, are more injurious to faucet seats than others.

If you try to fix a faucet leak yourself, be sure you have the right kind of a wrench for the faucet nut. Be sure to protect the plating of the faucet by inserting cloth or paper between the jaws of the wrench and the nut.

Use only the best washers for faucets. It takes no more labor or time to put in a quality washer than an inferior washer. A good washer will give long service even in a hot water faucet. An inferior washer will soon swell or get soft in hot water. Plumbers use sturdy synthetic washers which will stand up under thousands of turns.

Some faucets have renewable seats while others have seats which are an integral part of the faucet. When a removable seat is taken out, it should not be thrown away. It should either be salvaged or should be re-ground.

Granges Begin Series of Degree Meetings

The first of a series of county degree meetings scheduled for this month was held at the Claridon school Wednesday night with Martel Grange in charge. Kenneth Pangborn, master of Martel Grange, presided. The first degree was exemplified by Bethlehem grange with Miss Florence Almendinger in charge of the drill work. An all-men's team from United Grange presented the second degree and a flag drill, presented by 16 young women, was directed by Mrs. Emmett Trout.

Elmer A. Williams, county deputy, conducted the inspection. A county degree meeting next Wednesday night will be at the Morral High school with Grand Prairie degree team presenting the first degree and Salt Rock Grange the second degree. Officers of Tymochtee Grange will preside.

Higher Priority Ratings Available For Lumber Needed for Some Farm Uses

COLUMBUS, O., March 6 — Higher priority ratings, AA-3 and AA-4, have been given recently for the purchase of lumber to be used in productive farm building, Elmer F. Kruse, chairman, Ohio USDA War Board, says stocks in many Ohio lumber yards have been seriously depleted within the past year and that farmers have had trouble in finding certain kinds of lumber commonly used.

Mr. Kruse also reports that dealers can receive assistance in replenishing stocks by making application on form PD-1X to the Distributor's Branch, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. The dealer will be asked to submit information about his present inventory, past sales, and uses for which lumber will be sold.

Productive uses for lumber on the farm do not include construction of new dwellings, garages, machine sheds, or repair shops. It will be difficult for a farmer to prove war-time essentiality for those types of construction so he will have difficulty in obtaining permission to buy nails and soft-wood lumber to build them.

Lumber consumption in the U. S. in 1942 was about 40,000,000,000 board feet and production was about 33,500,000,000 board feet. Normal reserves of lumber are approximately 20,000,000,000 board feet, but the reserves at the beginning of 1943 were less than half of normal.

Mr. Kruse points out there are no restrictions on the use of lumber produced on the farm. In many cases, the material which can be cut from home woodlots will serve as well in construction as that which is ordinarily bought.

New Hot Water And Steam Boiler Efficient

The characteristics of low cost and operating economy of a new hot water and steam boiler make it particularly suitable for defense homes built for two or more families.

A scientifically designed combustion chamber and long, double gallery flue passages provide high efficiency and economy. A small water content and large steam space give quick heat and dry steam. All section and door contacts are machine ground to make them tight and air-proof.

Special features of the new boiler set a high standard of convenience. They include air cooled handles, foot treadle door openers, and a new type of grate shaker located conveniently at the side.

Concealed hinges add to the beauty of the unit which is suitable for use with all fuels, automatic or hand-fired.

War Correspondents, 1943 Model

THE demand for eye-witness stories of American action in the war will be limited to the extent of the war correspondents' ability—and it is very great. It begins with a peculiar kind of courage that makes a man expose himself to danger and a fixed percentage of casualty rate on bombing raids, front line duty, submarine duty and anything else hazardous enough to make a good story.

It continues with an ability to look at a given situation from a viewpoint sufficiently detached to make a reasonably articulate description possible when the correspondent sits down to his trusty typewriter. War correspondents, of course, are created by circumstances, but the raw material must have been previously processed to eliminate all writers unable to perform under extreme pressure.

There is one more requirement for an up-to-date war correspondent, the hardest of all to fill, perhaps. The fellow must be global. One month he may be in the northern hemisphere, the next month in the southern. He is interchangeable, like a jeep part, working as well with sailors as aviators, in hot or cold climates. Because most of what we know about the war we must get from the war correspondents, our gratitude knows no bounds.

Humor in the News

NOTHING could be further from fact than the common impression that all the news right now is grave. For instance, what could be more ludicrous than the Associated Press report that former Rep. Casey of Massachusetts, a lame duck, and Jonathan Daniels, son of famed Josephus, are working on a plan to clear up confusion in the minds of the people about rationing and price and wage controls? Surely anyone who has followed from a distance the attempt to keep the people from being confused—up to and including Elmer Davis himself—must be pardoned for snickering if Washington doesn't realize soon that confusion can't be blamed on the people. Or take the offhand remark in a dispatch from the capital that the house ways and means subcommittee worrying about pay-as-you-go proposals intends to "let them simmer for a while." What could be funnier than a bunch of solemn fellows letting something simmer while 130,000,000 wait for it to boil over on or before March 15? There's always fun in the news if you look for it.

When No News Is News

NEWSPAPERS, feeling keenly their responsibility to readers seeking information about rationing, are devoting more and more time and space to this wartime problem. Every aspect of wartime control over the habits and activities of the population is news; next to the war itself, the adjustment to war is the most interesting subject of the day.

This is the background for an incident in Los Angeles of more than passing interest. Los Angeles newspapers, confronted with an office of war information decision to handle all news of local federal agencies because OWI objected to stories obtained by newspapers reflecting on some of the agencies, decided that they would have to get along in that case without any news at all. They published the telephone number of the OWI official in charge and let nature take its course, which it is presumably doing.

The story takes many forms, but the more it changes the more it is the same. The impulse to make government seem better than it is by barring the press to anything except pre-sweetened, pre-digested information is recurrent, like the impulse to fall in love in the spring. The only reason the public is still finding out most of what goes on is because the impulse is stepped on—hard—whenever it bobs up again. For a few days no news becomes news while the light dawns on a few murky minds and then things return to normal. If it ever ceases to happen that way, it will be plain hell.

Ohio's Lady Congressman

LEST the notion get abroad that Rep. Clare Boothe Luce has sole rights to distinction as a lady congressman who says a mouthful, Ohio's Rep. Frances P. Bolton had this to say last Thursday:

"I am the mother of two sons in the service.. Our men overseas are facing the sheer realities of the most brutalizing war in all history. With death on every hand they are not concerned with parities, with subsidies, with crop penalties. They are not interested in overtime payments, with life or death on their pay checks. They look to us for the tools of war. They expect us to measure up to their need."

Words like these explain the sudden surge of confidence in womanpower. Sometimes it looks as though it was this country's last best hope.

Need Seen for Americans To Know More About What This Country Is Accomplishing.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

NEW YORK, [illegible] I have talked with a great many people from all parts of the country about the way they feel about the war. Practically everybody is trying to do a job and is working too many hours and is finding the days too short for all the things that have to be done. I am sure that on the home front the will to win is overwhelming. Yet I get away from Washington with the feeling that many of the things which are being done, instead of stirring enthusiasm and confidence, are actually having the opposite effect. Almost everywhere I come across people who are profoundly discouraged about the way the war is being run.

It is not very easy to talk about a public mood. But this unnatural and dangerous split between the civilians and the men who are carrying the burden of the nation's defense is getting down. For I am not talking about the form of payments which cost money to the men who do not fight, but loneliness and [illegible] the men who work without stint and do the hard, the dirty and the thankless work which is needed to sustain the fighting men.

What They Need

What they need is to know that the people know and are interested, and that they are never forgotten and their devotion taken for granted.

I think I know the need for secrecy. But I do not believe that the War Department is using its imagination in this matter. The men who were going embarked were arriving at the pier in a succession of small boats. It was broad daylight, and anyone in any one of a hundred buildings on shore could see the small boats, the men crowded on them, and the transport to which they were going. Moreover on the pier itself and on the ship there were hundreds of civilian laborers.

Yet on the long, damp cold and windy pier, where the men were lined up before they went aboard ship, there was not a single thing done to relieve the bleakness of what to all of them is probably the beginning of the greatest adventure of their lives, and to most of them surely a very trying moment. There was no woman from the Red Cross to give them a cup of coffee and a doughnut. There was no one to cheer them on.

These are not small things. These are great things in war. For even in mechanized war, the souls of men are not mechanized, and just cold efficiency, no matter how efficient in itself is not enough.

We See Too Little

All we see and all that most of us know about have been something of the final results, our defeats when we were unprepared and inexperienced, our more spectacular successes—and accompanying them the drama of Washington personalities.

Recently I stood at the foot of a gangplank and watched American soldiers embarking on a transport. This was at the end of day in which I had seen the unbelievably complicated organization and the immense installation by which these men got to the ship and by which their weapons, their supplies are, like a stupendous jigsaw puzzle, brought together and made to fit.

It was not the battlefront. It was not the training camps. It was not the war production factories. It was just the neck of the bottle through which all the things we read and talk about have to pass: the draft, the training, the officers' schools, the invention, the [illegible]

Farm Bloc Holds Fire

Indications of Work on Compromise Seen.

By JOHN GROVER
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON correspondents note a change in farm bloc temperature lately. A counterplay of forces makes the bloc's attack on administration farm price-policies as confused and fluid as any situation in Washington.

The farm bloc came into this congress breathing fire and threatening a no-quarter assault on the administration farm program. One bill the bloc tagged "must" was the measure introduced by Representative Pace (D., Ga.) including farm labor costs as a basis for parity price estimates.

This bill was originally slated for swift enactment by the farm steam roller. Now, after two months in session, the Pace bill still lies in committee, and there is a significant congressional wariness in setting a date for bringing it out.

It suggests to Capitol Hill veterans that "something is in the air." In other words, that undercover overtures for a compromise are under consideration.

Farm Bloc's Peeves

The farm bloc had some major bones to pick with the administration. Biggest source of the farmers' resentment was their open charge that organized labor had been handed wage increases on a platter, while an attempt was made to make the farmer the anti-inflation program "goat."

Farm spokesmen pointed out that industrial wages had climbed steadily for 10 years under the New Deal, skyrocketing since 1940. All this time the administration preached parity prices to the farmers, with the inference that when industrial wage gains had been achieved, the consumers could pay parity prices for farm produce.

Now employment and wage levels are highest in history. And now, if ever, the farm group argues, parity prices are possible. Instead of granting parity prices under existing laws, the administration has controlled prices of some major crops (wheat, for one) at less than parity.

That looked like the short end of the horn to the farm-state congressmen. They were ready to jack up farm prices by mandatory, rather than optional, price control laws.

Farmers Hold Power

Make no mistake, the farm bloc has the votes. The cause of recent slackening in their militant fervor lies elsewhere.

This is the consensus of sound critical opinion: (1) farm-state Congressmen are in the main conservative. (2) they are sincerely concerned about inflation, (3) most of them dislike John L. Lewis.

Lewis is soon to start his fight for $2-a-day mine wage increases. Roughshod enactment of mandatory farm price increases would aid him. He could claim higher living costs justified his demands.

The Administration's "little steel" formula for controlling wages could hardly survive a Lewis triumph. It might easily start a runaway inflation spiral that would nullify any farm price increases.

That's the background reasoning behind the recent "marking time," as well-posted correspondents analyze it.

Negotiations Possible

The present "something in the air" may be negotiations that will give the farmers substantial adjustments without need for busting congress wide open with a bitter factional fight.

Machinery for upward revision of the farm price structure already exists. This optional power was delegated to the Administration last session. The prime "beef" of the farm spokesmen is that it wasn't used. It's not beyond possibility that adjustments based on this present law are bite nub of any current negotiations.

It's held significant that the Department of Agriculture abolished wheat planting acreage limitations. That's evidence of Administration disposition to grant concessions to the farm bloc. It may be the first move toward an accord.

There's still plenty of resentment in the farm group that could erupt any time. Many still believe labor has been babied while the farmers have been kicked around. The farm bloc is still plenty potent.

However, the present indications are that eagey old heads are urging "gittin' it easy" through negotiation, rather than attaining farm aims the hard way in an open, disruptive battle.

Up in Smoke

Tobacco tax collections by 28 states for 1942 were 487 per cent over 1934 collections by 14 states. However, the new states added since 1934 contributed 75 per cent of the increase, an analysis of tobacco tax revenues by the Federation of Tax Administrators show.

The 14 states taxing tobacco products in 1934, for a total of $22,200,000, were Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Dakota, Ohio, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas and Utah. In 1942, these same states collected $19,100,000, an increase of 121 per cent, compared with the 487 per cent increase.

By 1937, 20 states were levying tobacco taxes, with the six additional states—Arizona, Oklahoma, Connecticut, Kentucky, Virginia and Washington—accounting for $16,900,000 of the $30,300,000 increase shown in 1937 over 1934 collections.

By 1940, collections were up to $97,500,000, of which $34,700,000—more than one third—was collected by six states added to the tobacco tax list since 1937. These states were Vermont, Massachusetts, New York, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Wisconsin. The other 20 states collected $10,600,000 more than they had in 1937.

Illinois and Maine, which enacted cigaret levies in 1941, contributed $13,700,000 to the 1942 total collections of $130,300,000. 1942 collections for all the states went up $27,000,000 over 1941.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Monday, March 6, 1933. Marion residents cooperated with little grumbling in the four-day bank holiday ordered the preceding day by President Roosevelt, a day after he took office. Industrial and business concerns quickly arranged to operate on a credit basis during the four days. Banks were closed.

Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, one of the victims of the shooting of Giuseppe Zangara, who attempted to assassinate President-elect Roosevelt Feb. 15, died in a Miami, Fla., hospital.

Mrs. Emma Zora Mosier, 82, died at her home in Big Island township.

Upper Sandusky council settled for $125 a court action in which Mrs. Savilla Streby had sued the municipality for the death of some of her cows in July of 1931 after they ate grass that had been sprayed with a weed destroyer.

Addison Bain spoke to members of the Marion County Ministerial association on "What the Church Can Do for the Boy on the Streets."

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Armbruster of Patterson street.

Mrs. Kenneth D. Smith was elected president of LeMercure club at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Alwyn Crane on Girard avenue.

The Marion Builders Exchange met and outlined plans for a "Better Painted Marion" campaign.

Thirty young men and women began classes in typing and shorthand when an adult opportunity school sponsored at the Y.M.C.A. by the Marion Federation of Women's clubs opened its first classes.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, March 6, 1923. President Harding and his party arrived in Florida by train to begin a vacation trip. Pausing at Jacksonville, the president chatted with a crowd from his train platform for about 10 minutes, commenting to one patriarch, "I suppose you have plenty of boll weevil down here." The answer was, "Yes suh, plenty of boll weevil and corn likker." The party proceeded at once to a houseboat for a cruise down the Indian river.

The American debt funding commission met at the treasury department to draft the final form of a contract to bind the British to pay their $4,600,000,000 war debt to the United States on a basis already agreed on by commissions of the two governments.

Bell-bottomed Spanish type trousers adorned at the top by colorful sashes, were banned at Harding High school after a group of students, declaring war on the "cake eaters" who wore the fancy garb, forcibly removed the sashes and the bell-bottom sections from the trousers of several boys. Principal K. H. Marshall ordered that nothing but standard apparel be worn.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Curl of Franklin street and Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Lewis of Cleveland avenue.

L. E. Starr, E. T. Smart, H. R. Stoll, Samuel Rosenberg, Carl Watrous, H. R. Waddell and A. H. Walters were attending a shoe dealers convention in Columbus.

Marion Rotary club members, meeting at Hotel Marion, heard talks by C. B. King, general manager of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., Frank B. Morrison of the Power Manufacturing Co. and Harry R. Adams, superintendent of the Kent division of the Erie railroad on employer-employe relationships. Josiah Bindley gave a report on a proposal to help provide operating room facilities at the City hospital.

Fewer Drunks

LONDON — Fewer than 9,000 persons were arrested for drunkenness in London during 1942, compared with 12,000 in 1941 and 20,000 a year before war.

Work-or-Fight Proposal

From the Portland Oregonian.

THOSE spokesmen for labor who have come out so excitedly against Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson's misnamed "work-or-fight" bill, should retire and sleep on it. Most of them would change their minds; for they are patrious along with the rest of us, and the basic idea contained in the measure by the forthright congressman from Texas is something with which they cannot, in all honesty, take issue. The idea is not anti-labor nor is it pro-employer. It is merely pro-production.

The idea is to drive the malingerers out of the war plants—first out of the plants having Navy contracts. And what can any decent person have against that?

The bill (it now has the approval of the house naval affairs committee, to which it was referred) provides that all plants holding Navy contracts, including shipyards, shall make out quarterly reports for the benefit of all draft boards which have men working in these plants. The record of every man who had been absent from his job without leave during the preceding quarter would be submitted to his draft board, along with the man's own explanation of such absenteeism. And the implication is that the boards, after review of the evidence, would be expected to reconsider the draft status of such workers as were considered guilty of welching on the job—of using their jobs as shields.

We do not see how any good citizen can quarrel with that. We should all be able to understand that when the government, under such a procedure, orders the reconsideration of the draft status of welchers and careless persons, it is not depriving the citizen of inherent rights, but merely withdrawing the citizen from a previous preferred status. It is merely returning the industrial employe—who had promised to do a job on the industrial front but who had failed—to the common and rather noble status of our sons, brothers and nephews who are fighting the war in uniform. Yet some of the labor spokesmen do not seem to be able to get around this idea. They see capitalistic badmen under the bed. For example, the publication Labor reports that many labor leaders are charging that the bill is "a disguised scheme to cripple workers' rights and outlaw strikes."

That is nothing more than a quibbler; for if there is anything in Mr. Johnson's bill which requires revision to remove it from the least suspicion of being an anti-strike or anti-labor bill, we imagine that the Texas congressman and the naval affairs committee would be most glad to cooperate. It is news if either the brilliant young Texan or the naval affairs committee has entered into the class struggle. The real question is as to whether the opposition will be equally cooperative and will join in supporting a measure precisely worded to achieve the exact objective — the elimination from industry of those no-goods who have run to war work to keep from fighting and who even in industry shrink from a man's part.

Newest Proposals Would Take Professional Shows Right to Our Far-Flung Battle Fronts.

By DAMON RUNYON

NORMAN SPER and Frank Scully, the former [illegible] and the latter a columnist and the author of a book [illegible] are going to a conference [illegible] the largest sized plans [illegible] for the entertainment of our troops abroad.

Their idea is to transport to Europe and North Africa and perhaps even to Australia some of our standard sports attractions such as baseball, football and basketball, and present them before the soldiers.

They think it would be a fine thing if a couple of the big league ball clubs went to Europe or North Africa for their spring training and played exhibition games to soldier crowds. I suppose I imagine it is a little too late now for baseball. It is also my conjecture that the matter of transportation of entire ball clubs might prove a problem.

Still it could probably be done by air or water if the government officials approved, and there seems no reason why they should not approve. They have been sponsoring service baseball and football teams in this country ever since we got in the war on the ground they tend to improve the morale of soldiers and sailors, though as a matter of fact the crack teams of the service usually display their prowess before crowds of which soldiers and sailors are greatly in the minority.

THE RESULT has been complaint from parents and from service men, too, that athletes of reputation are greatly favored, though this beef has in no wise cut down the attendance mentioned. If the baseball and football is good for the morale of the men at home it ought to be all the better for the morale of those abroad, especially when presented by top-notchers at the real thing.

I am told that boredom among the men serving abroad and not yet in the combat zones is a serious problem. It is being relieved to some extent by American theatrical entertainers, who are doing a great job, but our boys love sports. Most of them miss not only the participation in sport, but the spectacles of sport with which they are familiar. You can imagine how welcome a series between the Dodgers and the Yanks would be to them, or a genuine battle between, say, Billy Conn and Joe Louis.

It would be comparatively easy to take a pair of American gladiators overseas for a championship contest before the soldiers, though I suppose the difficulty would be with the promoters and managers, who would prefer to stage any potentially remunerative match right here at home. The soldiers overseas could not be expected to pay to see a contest while the civilians at home would eagerly pungle up for the privilege. However, I recall hearing Mike Jacobs, the New York pugilistic promoter, talking of a non-profit adventure overseas of this very nature some time ago, and it is possible he may see eye to eye with the Messrs. Sper and Scully.

IN WORLD WAR I a big team of American boxers, including several of our champions, was taken to England by Teddy Hayes and met a similar team of British boxers, including the great Jimmy Wilde.

However, that show was not especially for soldier entertainment and the Sper-Scully plan contemplates nothing else. They think the program should take in all kinds of sport, even tennis, to suit every sport taste among the soldiers.

As I see their idea, the only way it could be carried out would be through the government appointment of a coordinator of sport with authority to commandeer the services of any person or persons necessary to the success of the plan. That is easier said than done.

Wonders of Science

From Baltimore Evening Sun

The wonders of science continue to astonish, delight and dismay us, by fits and starts. Science has just discovered which is the preferable rump, for steak-cutting purposes, of an ox—but let's start at the beginning.

It all began when R. W. Bray, C. E. Vail and D. L. Mackintosh, of the Kansas experiment station, decided to determine the influence of freezing—and we mean freezing (brrr!) not freezing (OPA)—on tenderness in "aged" beef. Their findings are duly chronicled in an official publication of the agricultural research administration of the United States department of agriculture.

These experiments were conducted upon the carcasses of four Hereford steers. Two of the carcasses (graded "U. S. Good") were aged for 32 days, the other two ("U. S. Medium") were aged for 42 days. Steaks cut from these steers were frozen at from 10 degrees to 14 degrees fahrenheit. Then, within 24 hours after slaughter, control steaks were cooked by a method effecting uniform cooking, and tested for tenderness "by a Warner-Bratzler tenderness shear test applied to lateral, central and medial cores' cut from the steaks. Next, the steaks were thawed, cooked and tested, and the "tenderness data, analyzed statistically, revealed that there was little or no change in tenderness of aged beef, due to freezing."

Up to this point we were having a hard time keeping from going to sleep, when suddenly our eye lighted upon this final sentence, which, like the postscript of a woman's letter, contains the only real news:

"The posterior section of the short loin was found to be more tender than the anterior section, and the right side significantly more tender than the left side." (Italics ours.)

We submit that this is cruelty to housewives. As if they hadn't already enough things to plague them when they do their marketing, science will now have them worrying about whether their steak is right-legged or left-legged.

SPECIAL DRILL OF CO. H TO START AT 10 A. M.

To Meet at Armory Sunday in Preparation for Inspection.

In preparation for federal inspection March 16, men of Co. H, State Guard, will meet for special drill Sunday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. in the Armory. The program for the day will include close order drill, manual of arms, range firing and a general review of all subjects which pertain to the inspection. Weather permitting, some of the drill will be out of doors, Capt. Carl Eberl said today. Mess will be served at 12 noon.

Marion men interested in joining the company will be welcome. Because of the reductions in the army by selective service, the company particularly needs men in the 3-B class or men over 38. "Men should realize their responsibility of protecting their home community," Captain Eberl said in asking for enlistments.

He also made a public request that relatives of Paul Duffey and Harry Watts, members of the company who are now in the Navy, call at the Armory Sunday and receive the pay that was due the men when they entered service. He also is prepared now to pay men who have been discharged.

Union Co. Ends Year with $27,590 Balance

MARYSVILLE, March 6—Union county ended the year 1942 in better financial condition than in many years. The county showed a balance in the general fund of $27,590.90 an increase of $12,000 during the year.

During the year receipts totaled $137,258.34 and expenditures $125,528.93. The balance in the general fund at the end of 1941 was $15,861.49. Increased revenues and curtailment of expenses was responsible for the large balance, County Auditor Frank E. Smith reported.

PLAYS PRESENTED BY SCHOOL PUPILS

1,000 Attend Performances at Vernon Jr. High.

An estimated 1,000 persons attended two presentations of plays by the seventh, eighth and ninth grade students of Vernon Junior High school Thursday and Friday at the school.

The plays were presented under the direction of Miss Mary Gracely, assisted by Miss Una Ackley and Miss Helen May.

Backdrops for the plays were designed by Duane Eastman, a ninth grade Vernon student and more than 100 students worked on the scenery. Pictures of the backdrops have been taken and will be sent to state educational publications.

Old, wornout bed sheets were utilized in making the scenery, and most of the art work was done with crayons.

The Seventh grade play, "The Knave of Hearts," included Bruce Ogden as the king, Burch Willey as the knave, Bobby Wingett as the chancellor, Bob Imbody and Joe Reamsnyder as heralds, Joan White as Blue Hose, Marilyn Seckinger as Yellow Hose, Barbara Probst as Lady Violetta, Janet Ulmer as Ursula, Frank Hall, Don Markley, Tom Goetting, Jim Dietrich, Floyd Wise and Mary Gruber as pages.

A backdrop for the play was made under the direction of Miss Mae Morris, art instructor in the city grade schools, and the costumes were supervised by Miss Nella Van Meter.

"Mother Walks Out" was the Eighth grade presentation. In the cast were Barbara Thiabaut, Mary; Dan LaMarche, John; Stewart Brown, Larry; Francis Russell, Conrad; Kay West, Frances; Imogene Bowman, Marjorie; Ann Hewelson, Ella; and Angie Millisor, Gladys.

The Ninth grade play was "The Pampered Darling." The cast included Helen Haines as Jessica, Helen Beal as Janet, Bernice Cosey as Mrs. Perkins, Jane Ann Gabler as Annabelle, Betty Short as Joy, Sam Baker as Dudley, Dick Foster as Victor, Harry Wilhelm as the doctor, Barbara Alspach as Connie, Charlie Wiant as Norman and Bill Wiedemann as Floyd.

Churches of the city to be represented are First Lutheran, First Methodist Market Street Methodist, First Presbyterian, Nazarene, First Baptist, First Reformed, United Brethren and Church of Christ.

Madame Chiang's Faith in China Reassuring to U. S.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Madame Chiang Kai-shek, America's brilliant and gracious guest who is one of the dominant influences in China's destiny, assures us her country never will lay down its arms until the Japanese invaders have been ousted.

That's good to hear, not only because we want to save China for its own brave sake but because that great nation is vital to the allied prosecution of the war against the mikado's barbarians. Madame Chiang, who has worked side by side with her generalissimo husband in creating the Chinese fighting machine, knows whereof she speaks. I believe her when she says her people won't quit.

Of course, you have to base an estimate like that on something more than a determined spirit. A will to resist is the first essential, but unarmed courage can't indefinitely withstand armed aggression.

Now the world well knows China is so short of all kinds of resources that she is, in a manner of speaking, fighting artillery with side-arms. She possesses unlimited man-power but is dependent on the allies to fit out her forces. How then, pending delivery of this aid, can she hold out against the vast and well equipped Japanese army which has attached itself to her like a vampire bat?

The answer to that is the needle in the haystack. It isn't easy to find but once you have discovered it you wonder that you didn't see it before.

Trades Resources for Time

China's defensive strength in her present relatively unarmed state lies in the fact that she has vast reaches of space to trade for Jap time.

Just get out your maps of China and take a look. Space for time. It's simple enough, isn't it? The farther the Jap drives into the vastness of the Chinese hinterland the longer becomes his lines of communication with his bases.

Still, I don't like to leave the thing like that because we ought to emphasize the courage of the Chinese under adversity. One of the things that impressed me most about them during my recent visit was the way they laugh through their tears. In all my world travels I've never seen another people who laugh so much as the Chinese. And believe me, life is terribly hard for them these days in every way.

When I was in Chungking a government ministry gave me a dinner. Incidentally, it consisted of a large number of Chinese dishes which I waded through with unfamiliar chop sticks, and my efforts were so extraordinary that I stopped the show several times. However, that's another story. When the dinner was over they asked me to speak, and I said to them:

"I've ceased to worry about you Chinese or your ability to defeat the Japs. Any people who can laugh so much as you do, can't be beaten."

Much Truth In It

There's a good deal of truth in that idea, too. Anyway, the Chinese seem to be well at the moment. Latest reports from Chungking are that enemy drives in Kiangsu and Kiangsi provinces have more or less failed, and another in Yunnan has been checked.

Threats of a general Japanese offensive remain, but the Chinese say this depends on whether enemy reserves are thrown into action. The Jap troops at present engaged on the various fronts are described as having lost their fighting spirit.

Meanwhile the Chinese have, as I predicted yesterday, got much satisfaction out of the allied victory in the Bismarck sea. This terrific blow at Japanese power is the sort of meat into which a Chinese can get his teeth.

Bucyrus Youth Dies After Short Illness

Mt. Gilead Man Weds at Sarasota, Florida

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Louise Jones of Kansas City, Mo., and John H. Burbaugh of Mt. Gilead, which took place recently in Sarasota, Fla. The ceremony was read by Rev. John Humphrey of Rebobth Beach, Del.

A program of nuptial music was given by Mrs. Sam Shipbaugh. As she played "I Love You Truly" the bridal group formed in front of the huge stone fireplace, which was beautifully decorated with pink and white gladioli and snap dragons, amid banks of palms.

The bride wore a sky blue taffeta evening gown with white accessories. Her corsage was of white gardenias and pink camellias.

Mrs. George Gollwitzer of Rhinelander, Wis., matron of honor, wore an evening dress of white with gold accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

George Gollwitzer served as best man and Pam Sue Dailey was the ring bearer.

Following the wedding a reception was held and a buffet luncheon was served.

Guests included Mrs. W. M. Thew and Miss Jean Ann Thuma of LaRue, Mr. and Mrs. William Van Horn and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anson of Russels Point.

Due to war conditions, Mr. and Mrs. Burbaugh will not take a wedding trip and will be at home to their many friends at 444 Ellis street, Sarasota, Fla.

Funeral Services To Be Held Monday at 1:30 P. M.

Mrs. Amy E. Vance, 71, of 275 Olney avenue died in her home at 7:30 last night after an illness of one week.

A resident of Marion 32 years, she came here from Gallipolis, where she was born July 31, 1871. She was a daughter of Jacob and Mary Kelley Slack, both natives of Virginia. July 6, 1891 she was married to Daniel W. Vance in Gallipolis. She was a member of Wesley Methodist church here.

Surviving besides the husband are the following children: Thurman Vance of 797 Waples avenue, Clifford M. Vance of 755 Bellefontaine avenue, Mrs. Ellen J. Stoner of Mansfield and Kelley Vance of 326 Hane avenue, 12 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 1:30 p. m. in the L. A. Axe and Son funeral home on Mt. Vernon avenue and at 2 in the Wesley church by Rev. D. N. Kelly. Burial will be made in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Republicans Told Bricker Will Win Nomination

By The Associated Press

NORWALK, O., March 6—Congressman Dewey Short (R-Mo.) told a McKinley club banquet here Gov. Bricker would win the Republican nomination for president next year and Franklin D. Roosevelt probably would seek a fourth term.

Criticizing President Roosevelt's pre-war policies, Short said in his address last night:

"For 10 years resident Roosevelt had absolute power and absolute control over both houses of congress and had his own picked ambassadors, ministers and attaches scattered about the capitals and chief cities of the world.

"Instead of spending money for tanks, planes, and strengthening our outposts, he spent billions of dollars in boondoggling to build up a powerful political machine to keep himself and his henchmen in office."

FIRE DAMAGES SCHOOL

CLEVELAND, March 6—Fire swept through two rooms of the Taft elementary school in suburban Lakewood early today, causing damage estimated at $10,000. Fire Chief Charles A. DeLaney of Lakewood suspected arson, asserting that fires apparently were set simultaneously in the school's book supply room on the first floor and in the second-floor library.

REPORT ALASKAN BUTTER STOCK LEFT ON BEACH

350 Tons Neglected, Travelers Home from North Say.

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, March 6—Business men returned from Alaska told today, the Post-Intelligencer said, of a cargo of 350 tons of butter landed on an Alaskan beach and left there through the winter because of a lack of storage space in the unidentified town.

The Post-Intelligencer quoted them as saying much of the huge cargo already had spoiled because the brine in which it was packed froze and broke the barrels. They said the shipment arrived last October from the civilian reserve food supply agency.

The Alaskans reported much of a cargo of 70 tons of canned pears also froze and burst their containers.

"The thing has become a joke the length of Alaska," the paper quoted one Seattle-Alaska business man as saying. He declined to be identified by name because, he said, of his business relations with government agencies.

A high ranking federal official in Seattle, who likewise declined to be quoted by name, defended the foresight involved in the large scale shipment to the distant community, the paper reported. He expressed belief much of the food on the beach could be recovered and the frozen butter could be reprocessed or rebrined.

He said he realized that Alaskans were "making a joke" of the incident, but said they failed to realize the government agencies intended to provide reserves for several years as a war shortage safeguard.

"These people might take another view of the matter," he said, "if our shippipng to Alaska were cut off for a year or two by war developments."

ministration and agriculture department orders—both effective April 1—as parallel attacks on such illicit operations. Wickard said in a radio address it was up to the people to enforce the orders, and added:

"Unless we straighten this situation out, it will seriously interfere with our war effort."

Another showdown was shaping in the house ways and means committee room on the issue of whether individual income tax payers would have all of one year's taxes abated. A subcommittee had approved a system to put all of the 44,000,000 income taxpayers on a current collection plan July 1—but it tossed the skip-a-year controversy back into the full committee's lap. With most members favoring some abatement, but unable to agree on how much, the committee was slated to tackle the problem again Monday.

Reply to Guffey

Apart from the legislative activities on Capitol Hill was the furor over Senator Guffey's (D-Pa) suggestion that no tradition bars a fourth term for President Roosevelt if the people want him. Both Democratic and Republican senators promptly responded that this was no time to talk politics—although naturally being divided as to which party was doing the most of such talking.

Coincidentally, congressional reaction from both parties indicated opposition to criticism of the service records of the President's sons. The house Republican leadership was reported to have told Rep. Lambertson (R-Kan) to "lay off" such criticism even before Lieut. Col. Elliott Roosevelt wrote his congressman in defense of himself and his brothers. And bi-partisan verbal applause echoed that which sounded on the house floor yesterday when a letter from the President's soldier son in North Africa was read by Rep. Lanham (D-Tex) who described the Kansan's criticsm as "unfair and improper."

TO RETIRE AT BEXLEY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 6—Supt. H. C. Dieterich of Bexley schools announced he would retire July 31 because of ill health. He has been superintendent in the Columbus suburb 19 years.

RESUME OIL PRODUCTION

MOSCOW, March 6—The Russians said today they had resumed petroleum production in the Maikop oil fields, which the Red army recaptured Jan. 31 in its Caucasus offensive against the Germans.

JAMES M. BARNES (above), former Democratic congressman from Illinois, was named an administrative assistant to President Roosevelt at a salary of $10,000 a year.

AFRICA

Rommel had been assigned the task of playing for time in Tunisia to forestall, if possible, an allied offensive against Europe through the spring and even the summer.

Look for Attack

Rommel, a fierce advocate of offensive fighting, such as he used in his recent incursion into central Tunisia, may be preparing to lash out similarly at the Eighth army, observers believed.

If he could strike as heavy a blow as he landed on the allied army at his center, he could delay the smashing of the Germans in Tunisia by weeks and even months, these observers thought.

With the northern axis army under Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim keeping a large part of the British First army busy and with plenty of territory to trade in the south for time, Rommel is in a position to concentrate his maximum force against Montgomery.

(The Italian high command reported 2,500 allied prisoners, including 52 officers, were taken in Tunisia between Feb. 26 and March 3, but said there was "nothing of importance" to report from that war theater yesterday.

(The communique, broadcast from Rome and recorded by The Associated Press, declared German bombers had sunk three allied ships totalling 26,000 tons out of a convoy northwest of Tripoli and had damaged two others. An Italian submarine was said to have sunk an allied destroyer and torpedoed a cargo ship in the central Mediterranean. There was no confirmation of these declarations from allied quarters.)

Lee Chapman, Richwood Decorator, Stricken

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, March 6—Lee Chapman, 45, Richwood painter and decorator, died of a heart attack yesterday at 2:30 p. m. as he was on his way home from the business section of town. He collapsed near the Richwood Lumber Co. Dr. J. M. Foster, Union county coroner, said he died of a heart attack.

A native of Richwood, Mr. Chapman was born March 17, 1897 to Theodore and Emma Chandler Chapman. He was married to Mrs. Ruth Pratter Chapman who survives with three children, Betty, Merl and Norma, all at home.

Surviving also are the following sisters and brothers, Mrs. Walter Ruggles of near Cardington, Henry Chapman of South America, Ben and Anson Chapman of Richwood, and Perry Chapman of Brickley Field, Ala.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Winters funeral chapel by Rev. J. Herbert Goewey of First Baptist church. Burial will be made in the Claiborne cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral chapel.

Services Conducted at Church for County Commissioner.

Funeral services for Urban F. Zachman of 220 St. James street, Marion county commissioner, were conducted this afternoon in Calvary Evangelical church by Rev. P. E. Smoke, pastor. Burial was made in Marion cemetery.

Pallbearers and honorary pallbearers included Walter Fetter, Municipal Judge Dexter Hazen, Elmer Ullom, Robert Stief, Walter Johnson and O. J. Quaintance, pallbearers; Harry Mounts, Clarence Keil, Judge W. R. Martin, Clyde Ullom, Harrison Kraner, William Risch, Walter Guthrie, Clifford Swisher, Bud H. Lawson and Harrly Cahill, honorary pall bearers.

Mr. Zachman died Wednesday at City hospital after a 24-hour illness.

JIMMY COLLINS, FAMED THIRD BASEMAN, DIES

Led Red Sox To First World Series Victory.

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 6—James J. (Jimmy) Collins, 73, one of baseball's greatest third basemen and manager of the 1903 Boston Red Sox, first team to win a World series, died today of pneumonia.

Collins was hospitalized Feb. 24 shortly after old-time fans had renewed a movement to place his name in baseball's hall of fame at Cooperstown. Nominated in 1935, he failed to receive enough votes.

A native of Niagara Falls, he started in 1893 with Buffalo of the old Eastern league, broke into the big time with the Boston Braves in 1895, and moved to the Red Sox as manager in 1901 when the American league was organized.

Collins was known as the first third baseman to play away from the bag and first to master defense against bunts. He had a lifetime batting average of .296 and fielding average of .929.

He quit the National league in 1901 to manage the newly organized Red Sox and two years later piloted the team to a pennant and a victory over Pittsburgh in the first World series.

In 1907 he was traded to the Philadelphia Athletics, remaining until 1908. The next year he managed Minneapolis and in 1910 piloted Providence where he stayed until he quit the game in 1911.

LT. QUENTIN ROOSEVELT WOUNDED IN AFRICA

Grandson of T. R. Hit in Back by Shellfire.

By The Associated Press

WITH THE U. S. ARMY IN TUNISIA, Feb. 22—(Delayed)—Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, 25, of Oyster Bay, N. Y., son of Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, has been wounded in action on the Tunisian front.

Young Roosevelt, a forward observer and liaison officer for an artillery unit and grandson of the late ex-President Theodore Roosevelt, was struck in the back either by a machinegun bullet from a strafing plane or by a fragment of anti-aircraft shell during a German Stuka and Messerschmitt raid yesterday on an American artillery unit in a ravine near the plains leading to Kasserine pass.

The tall mustached officer—he bears a resemblance to his famous grandfather—had just finished a cup of coffee and was standing on a pine-studded hill watching the action when wounded.

He was taken to a base hospital after emergency treatment and medicos said the bullet or shell fragment which struck him in the right back apparently had not hit any vital organ. They expressed belief his condition not serious but that he was suffering from shock.

14 Belgians Sentenced on Revolt Charges

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 6—Fourteen Belgian army intellectuals, some of whom were charged with revolting against their officers in Britain, received sentences ranging from two years down to four months by a Belgian court martial, it was announced today.

The accused, all university men, were charged by the prosecution among other things with having written to Hubert Pierlot, premier of the Belgian government-in-exile, threatening to send an army reform plan to the newspapers, and to Prime Minister Churchill and Aircraft Production Minister Sir Stafford Cripps.

Up-to-Date Books Wanted To Send To Service Men

"Every member a good book" is what is being asked of clubs and other organizations by sponsors of the second Victory Book drive to provide reading material for the men in the armed forces. Marion is joining in the second annual campaign for books and this year the appeal is being made through groups and organizations rather than a house to house canvass. Individual contributions, whether you have been asked through an organization or not, are most welcome, Mrs. Harold K. Mouser, general chairman, said today.

Don't look in your attic for books to give our service men—they want up-to-date, live reading matter. This is a drive in which everyone can participate, for surely there is at least one book in the household library that can be sent on to the men in service.

"Send a book you have enjoyed," is the slogan of the sponsors, the American Red Cross, the American Library association and the USO.

Recent surveys show that service men prefer books of the best seller type, either fiction or non-fiction, enjoy the mysteries and Western stories and are interested in technical books of all kind which will aid them in securing promotions in service, and list as another choice of books a geographical type concerning theaters of operation in which our troops are involved.

The city library will be the collection center for this year's book collection.

Prohibition Move Under Way in Capital

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—Evidence developed on Capitol Hill today that prohibition advocates in congress would attempt to tack a duration-of-the-war "dry" rider to a measure designed to curb absenteeism among war workers.

Signs they would adopt that strategy were apparent both in hearings before the house naval committee and cloakroom discussion, and were pointed up yesterday during a speech by Rep. Rees (R-Kas).

The Kansan, one of the leaders in the fight, told the house Monday morning hangovers had been a major factor in the loss of man hours of work in war industries, and suggested congressional committees give consideration to halting liquor sales near such plants.

Miss Kleindinst Dies at Bucyrus

BUCYRUS, O., March 6—Miss Louise Kleindinst, 80, for many years a dressmaker here, died last night at her home in Bucyrus after a two-year illness. A native of Findlay, Miss Kleindinst came here in 1881 and opened a dressmaking shop. Surviving are two sisters, Miss Augusta Kleindinst, with whom she lived, and Mrs. George Linser of Bucyrus. The funeral will be conducted Monday at 2:30 p. m. in the Munz funeral home. Burial will be made in Oakwood cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

hit a powder factory or an ammunition dump."

The RAF's new Typhoon planes teamed up with Spitfires yesterday for a daylight sweep over the Netherlands coast. Two small enemy torpedo boats were sunk and two others heavily damaged.

The Typhoon, still on the secret list, was shown to correspondents for the first time yesterday.

Veteran pilots say the Typhoon will play a major part in support of the allied invasion of Europe when the time comes. Many pilots think it is better for many aerial tasks than the famed British Spitfire. Its description and specifications may not be given, but one pilot said:

"The Typhoon is faster than anything Jerry has and it packs a hell of a punch."

Bags Sneak Raiders

The plane is particularly valuable in combatting German sneak raiders who sneak in low over the British coast, carrying one 500-pound, drop the bomb and disappear into the clouds without exposing themselves to attack for more than two or three minutes.

The air ministry has announced Typhoon squadrons, patrolling the channel, have taken a toll of one out of every eight of these German sneak bombers.

The Typhoons also are used at night to attack trains, docks and othear targets in France and Belgium.

INFANT DAUGHTER DIES AFTER 2-WEEK ILLNESS

Pneumonia Fatal to Pamela Close of Commercial St.

Pamela Edris, 10-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Close of 390 Commercial street, died of pneumonia at 6:15 p. m. yesterday at the home. She had been ill two weeks. The child was born April 20, last year, in Marion, to Earl Close, a native of Delaware county, and Edna Chapman Close, whose birth place was Marion. The parents, three brothers, Earl D., Dale and Gerald, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Close of 895 West Center street, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chapman of Richwood, survive.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Monday at the M. H. Gunder & Sons funeral home at 347 West Center street. Burial will be in the Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 o'clock tonight.

NAZI ATTACK ON SUPPLY LINES SEEN

London Sources Say Germans Aim at Russian Aid.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 6 — Wide speculation over the possibility the Germans were planning a major attack on allied supply lines to Russia was stirred today by publication of dispatches to two London newspapers—which failed to state the source of their information—that a powerful concentration of German fighting ships was being assembled in the Trondheim area of Norway.

Stories in the Evening Standard and the Daily Telegraph said the 35,000-ton battleship Tirpitz, queen of Hitler's war fleet, the aircraft carrier Graf Zeppelin, the 26,000-ton Scharnhorst, at least two cruisers of the Hipper class and a number of fast destroyers were in the concentration.

The prospect the Germans might attempt to break out of their fjord hideaways suggested the possibility of an even greater allied ship hunt than the one which ended the Bismarck's career in flaming ruin and a sea grave in 1941.

An official source suggested the German fleet might be assembling for a battle against long odds rather than submit to being bottled up indefinitely as was the German fleet after the battle of Jutland in the last war.

Other sources however, thought the grouping of Germany's main naval power in Norwegian waters was ordered because its recently chosen commander, Admiral Karl Doenitz, believed an attack on the Russian supply line would be advantageous to the retreating German armies in Russia.

Marion Member of Masons 75 Years Honored

Celebrating last Thursday his seventy-fifth anniversary as a Mason, James M. Davidson, 96, received flowers and messages of congratulation from Marion Masonic organizations of which he is a member.

One of the 10 oldest master Masons in the world and the only man in the state known to have celebrated three-quarters of a century as a Mason, Mr. Davidson has lived in the Ohio Masonic home in Springfield since 1932. Before going there to live he was bailiff of the Marion county common pleas court for some time and was for many years freight agent for the Hocking Valley railroad here.

A medal being made by the grand lodge will be presented to him in a ceremony at the home conducted jointly by the grand lodge and Marion lodges.

NEW FINNISH CABINET

By The Associated Press

HELSINKI, March 6—Finland formed a new cabinet yesterday under the conservative Prof. Edwin Linkomies in which ministerial representation of the pro-Fascist patriotic peoples party was eliminated and the foreign portfolio was assigned to Sir Henrik Ramsay, Scots-descended shipping leader. Observers said there was nothing in the records of either Premier Linkomies or Ramsay which would make them inacceptible to Soviet Russia and consequently handicap chances of the nation in any peace negotiations.

Fliers Lay Bets on Unit With Best Score in Africa

By The Associated Press

WITH THE ALLIED AIR FORCE IN TRIPOLITANIA, March 5—(Delayed)—In "Union Now" and "Boomerang Hut," two baggy tents on rival hillocks, you could pay your money and take your choice of which allied fighter squadron would wind up the African campaign with the No. one victory record.

"Boomerang Hut" is tenanted by an Australian outfit and since the days of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's first push against the axis back in 1940 it has shot down 213 enemy planes.

Over in "Union Now" an array of pilots from almost every English-speaking nation in the world, including the United States, is seeking to lift their squadron's total from 196 planes to better than the Aussies' mark.

Flight Sergt. Dick Debourke of Newton, Mass., has three enemy aircraft to his credit and could have transferred months ago to the U. S. Army air force, but he preferred to stay with the British squadron, so keen is the comradeship among these desert fighting men.

Some pilots getting ready in "Union Now" for raids along the Mareth line have Canada on the shoulder of their battle dress, but you could see New Zealand, Australia, Kenya and South Africa on others.

An amiable flight lieutenant, R. R. Smith of London, Ont., remarked: "We've also got a couple of Scots and an odd Englishman or two whom we have caught and tamed."

Launch Two-Front Drive on Black Markets

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—The government launched a two-front attack yesterday on black market operations in meat.

Following closely on OPA announcement of uniform retail prices for meat, Agriculture Secretary Wickard issued three orders providing closer control over the slaughter of livestock and sale of meat.

OPA announced uniform retail ceilings for pork, beginning April 1, and said similar maximums would be established about the same time for beef, veal, lamb, and mutton.

Both Wickard and Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown said their actions were designed to prevent black market operations.

Wickard also asserted his orders would result in adequate supplies of meats for direct war needs and would bring about more equitable distribution.

Beau Jack Again Edges Fritzie Zivic

They May Meet Again Soon; Record Crowd of 18,813 Sees Fight.

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, March 6—Some time, Fritzie Zivic, the "Ba-a-a-bad boy" of Bash boulevard, is going to get lucky on a New York ring over one of those "ooh" and "aah" body punches—and then you're going to see some fun.

For the second time in a month, the "ooohs" had it on the "aahs" on a referee score card against him last night, and Beau (The Jumping Jack squeaked through by the narrowest of margins to win a rough-and-tumble 12-round decision over the Pittsburgh pounder.

But the punch was so questionable and the edge the "oohs" had over the "aahs" about that lucky blow Fritz-eroo fired in the ninth round—which caused Referee George Walsh to take the boat away from Zivic—was so close Promoter Mike Jacobs started to smoke up a third tea-party between the two thumpers.

Naturally, the $371,310 "house" the two warriors drew into the big Eighth avenue soupbowl from a record 1943 crowd of 18,813 didn't hurt the cause a bit.

The best chance for a third match would be, it was explained, if "something happens to Henry Armstrong." The rejuvenated Hammer is slated to bump into the Beau here April 2, but if he should run into storm signals against Tippy Larkin or Al Tribuani, his next two opponents in between, Fritzie will get his chance at the Jumping Jack for the third time in Hank's place.

The fact remains, however, that Fritz's "low" punch in the ninth round last night caused just as much of a "rhubarb" this time as his questionable "foul,"—seen only by the referee—in the eighth round the last time he tangled with the ex-shoeshine boy from Georgia a month ago.

Bucks Enter Big Ten Swim Finals Tonight

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill., March 6 — Ohio State's flashy tank team goes into tonight's finals of the Big 10 swimming meet with a 42 to 29 margin over Michigan, the Bucks' strongest opponent.

A decisive factor in the long lead taken by the Bucks last night was the 13 points chalked up by sweeping the first three places in the low-board fancy diving event.

Frank Dempsey, Big Ten and national collegiate champion, won the event in the meet at Northwestern university. Batterman took second for Ohio and strong third.

The 220 yard free style record was broken by Ohio State's Keo Nakama, sophomore star from Hawaii, who was clocked in 2 minutes 11.2 seconds.

Competitive Sports Necessary, Says Western Conference Commissioner

By H. C. WARREN
International News Service Sports Writer.

CHICAGO, March 6—For 21 years as commissioner of the Western conference Major John L. Griffith has waged a steady campaign to preserve and develop the competitive ideals of intercollegiate athletics.

His inflexible stand during periodic attacks on the values of college sports has projected him into the spotlight against his personal desire to remain in the background.

Major Griffith was recently forced into the national athletic picture when an attempt was made to substitute formal mass calisthenic drills for competitive sports in the program to fit service men for combat duty.

Griffith said:

"Combat sports train men for the rigors of combat. For example there are certain values to be learned from inter-collegiate team contests that could never be learned from formal exercises. Our college athletes gain social-psychological values which will stand them in good stead under pressure."

Enemy Lacked Leaders

The Big Ten leader points out that American military men during the last war reported that when a German officer was killed his men could not react to the emergency. He continued.

"We learned that they could not resolve leadership from among themselves. Their whole physical training background was formal exercise and turnverein routines—no competitive sports. Our boys reacted differently in combat. If an officer fell someone took the initiative of leadership. American soldiers with a background of American sports maintained themselves well under pressure."

According to Major Griffith the first organized physical education work in the American colleges derived from German turnverein program which were based on the John system. German expatriates set up the first training courses in many of the older colleges. At the same time sports began to develop.

"Competitive athletics were the extemporaneous expression of the students. The boys, without faculty interference or help, made their own schedules and hired their own coaches. In later years, of course, faculty control was needed," Griffith recalls.

A Natural Expression

"Competition in sports is the natural expression of the American boy. He inherently dislikes the formal schedule of calisthenics. He prefers to harden himself in combat sports. He wants to compete with someone. Above all, he wants to win."

"Why then," Griffith asks, "should we discard the competitive sports and adopt the old pre-World war Prussian stuff? Even Germany adopted the American idea of sports in preparing for this war."

Griffith does not condemn physical education although some athletic men have recently complained that the physical educators are trying to force abandonment of competitive sports. He continued:

"In a well conceived and well executed physical training program there is room for all the techniques we have learned since the last war.

"At Ohio State, for example, varsity sports, intramural sports and physical education are all integrated under the directorship of L. W. St. John. At Michigan a huge compulsory hardening program has been initiated while the regular inter-collegiate program has continued. The Naval pre-flight training schools utilize some formal routines in preparing the boys for the major work of competitive athletics."

Besides being commissioner of the Big Ten, Major Griffith is secretary-treasurer of the National Collegiate Athletic association. He was president of the NCAA for five years and for many years was a member of the American Olympics committee.

While director of athletics at Drake university before the last war Major Griffith founded the Drake relays. As an athletic officer during the last war he was named a major. The military designation stuck as a nickname when he went to the University of Illinois as the director of the coaching school in 1919.

Griffith was named commissioner of the Big Ten in 1922. He was the first commissioner to be named for the conference.

Referring to the present efforts of the Western conference, the Big Ten chief said:

"The athletic director of the Big Ten went on record two years ago with a firm resolve to help in the war effort. The prime purpose of the conference now is to help the Army and Navy in all possible ways to physically condition the young men who will soon be in combat."

NAMED TO BIG TEN ALL STAR TEAM. Andy Phillip (above), University of Illinois forward, was one of four Illini players named to the Big Ten all-star basketball team selected for The Associated Press by conference coaches. In his last conference game, against the Chicago Maroons, the amazing Andy set Big Ten records for single game score (40 points), single game field goals (16) and season point total (255 in 12 games). The Illini won that game 92 to 25, to clinch their second consecutive conference title.

The SPORTSMAN

EVOLUTION OF FISHING

Frank Menke in his "Encyclopedia of Sports" says that the Persians were the first nation to feature fish as a national diet. The disciples of Christ's time were fishermen. They were net fishermen. The Jews invented the net as a means for taking fish. Spearing and burring was too slow.

The first fish caught and eaten by man were those found stranded on the shore. Cave-men caught them with their hands. Barbarians later designed a spear. Next a burr attached to a grapevine was used. The burr may have been fore-runner of the fly or plug. The Egyptians used lines and burrs and were first to use a pole. They made lines of twisted horsehair and used bone hooks.

About 500 B. C. the Chinese developed many ways of catching fish, including the splint trap. They also used pelicans and ducks with strings around their necks so they couldn't swallow the catch.

THIS AND THAT

Gearing Ohio's conservation program to fit a modern, balanced Ohio agriculture program requires progressive study on the part of the Ohio division of conservation and natural resources.. Samples of seeds turned in to the AAA for testing have been given to the division for wildlife feeding during the icy months ...Add to the "catchy phrases" that have been coined to express ideas back of worthwhile conservation movements: in Ohio, headwater lakes are referred to as "headwater hatcheries" and wildlife feeding stations are known as "wildlife cafeteries," while Ducks Unlimited are wont to refer to their waterfowl producing projects as "duck factories". It is estimated that in the United States alone there are at least 12,000,000 fishermen who spend $1,200,000,000 annually on this form of recreation.

HARDING CAGE TEAM TO PLAY NORTH IN TOURNEY TONIGHT

Prexies Face Maroons in Central District Opener.

Marion Harding opens its Central district Class A basketball drive tonight at 6:30 in the Ohio State gym in Columbus (7:30 Marion time) by opposing Columbus North in a first round event.

With the event located in new surroundings Harding hopes to break the jinx which plagued Prexy cagemen in previous tournaments played at Edwards gym in the Ohio Wesleyan university campus in Delaware.

Six times while the affair was staged at Delaware Harding lost out in the final round, bowing four times to Columbus teams and twice to state championship Newark teams.

Cleary Still Out

There was no indication this morning that Dick Cleary, Hardings steady, sharp shooting guard, would be ready to go against North. Dick has been in bed with the flu all week.

Tom Hurst, who missed practices early this week, returned Wednesday, and will probably be one of the starters as usual.

Therefore, likely choices of Head Coach Dewey N. Bohyer for the starting five are Dick Mulvaine and Stu Young, forwards, Charles Fazio, center; and Hurst and Frank Louck, guards.

In a game between Harding and North earlier in the season Coach Earl Hickman used a comparatively inexperienced starting quintet which included Ralph Pryor and Dick Gross, guards, Bill Butler, center; and Dale Bonnie and George Williams, guards. Butler is the outstanding star of the Columbus squad. He hovers around the six foot six mark and is capable of dumping in a lot of points. He collected the maximum in hitting for 20 in a Harding-North game a year ago but in the game this season was held to three. Chiefly responsible for the defensive chore was big Charlie Fazio.

Win Seven of 15

During the season which just ended the Maroons piled up seven victories and eight defeats. Harding's record, second best of the teams still remaining in the tournament, includes 11 wins in 13 starts.

The only Central district team to defeat Harding, Bexley, bowed out in a first round upset to Delaware Willis, aa 27-24 loser to Harding in the opening game of the hoop season. Harding's only other defeat was at the hands of the Ashland club which later lost 52-42 to Harding.

The Harding game is one of eight district Class A events slated to be played in the Ohio State university gymnasium Harding's game will open the evening set. The afternoon quartet of events includes Columbus Central vs. Washington C. H. at 12:30 p. m., Columbus Aquinas vs. Columbus West at 1:40, Columbus East vs. Westerville at 2:50 and Columbus South vs. Newark at 4.

After the Harding game at 6:30 will be the Grandview-Mt. Vernon game at 7:40, followed by the Upper Arlington-Circleville game at 8.50. The Delaware-London game is the final contest. It will start at 9.

Starting time of games is based on slow time, or the time which has been set up for Columbus.

Defending champion of the tournament is Columbus South. The Columbus team trounced Harding in a semi-final game last year and then followed up by knocking off Newark. Tonight the Wildcats get a chance to turn the tables, only immediately in the tournament instead of at the tail end.

Marion Co. Conservation Group To Meet Monday

A meeting of the Marion county conservation and natural resources committee will be held Monday at 8 p. m. in John Jolley's barber shop on East Center street. O. H. Neimeyer, deputy game protector, announced today. He urged those interested in hunting or fishing to attend the meeting. An election of officers will be held and a committee will be appointed to meet with the state conservation commission to select dates for the hunting season next fall. The committee also serves in advisory capacities in consideration of new hunting laws and regulations, Mr. Neimeyer said.

LaRue Cagers To Play in District Tourney Today

Utica, Alexander, Groveport and Fredericktown won final first round games in the Central district Class B basketball tournament at Westerville last night.

The tournament swings into the second round today with LaRue, Marion county's lone remaining representative, tackling a tough West Jefferson team at 1 p. m. This is one of eight games on tap today which will conclude the second round.

LaRue won its first game over Ostrander by a score of 27-24 to step into the second round of play. If the Marion county tournament winners turn back today's foe, they will meet the winner of the Plain City-Grove City game next Saturday.

West Jefferson drew a first round bye.

Other games today are Plain City vs. Grove City at 2, Berlin vs. Mt. Gilead at 3, Columbus University vs. Edison at 4, Millersport vs. Marysville at 6, Hebron vs. Pickaway township at 7, Alexandria vs. Groveport at 8, Utica vs. Fredericktown at 9.

COUNT FLEET HEADS LIST OF NOMINEES FOR DERBY MAY 1

110 Horses Eligible To Run but Only 10 or 15 Will Start.

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 6—Count Fleet, Ocean Wave and Blue Swords head a list of top three-year-old thoroughbreds nominated for the 69th running of the $75,000 added Kentucky Derby here May 1.

The list for the mile and quarter race, well under the 150 nominated last year, was made public today by Churchill Downs.

"Home Town" Derby

Variously referred to as the "home town derby" and the "war-time derby," the 1943 edition of the race, because of war restrictions, is expected to draw most of its thousands of spectators from Louisville and the surrounding vicinity.

The Downs is situated within the city limits of Louisville and street cars run past its main gate. Thousands of local turf fans have for years have stayed away from the Derby rather than battle the huge out-of-town crowds. They have a chance this year to have a seat at the race.

Of the 110 thoroughbreds now eligible for the race, only a handful, possibly 10 to 15, will face the starter on May day.

List of Favorites

On the basis of last year's records, Mrs. John Hertz's Count Fleet, W. E. Boeing's Devil Thumb and Allen T. Simmons' Blue Swords stack up as top contenders for the Derby cash and gold cup. However, his winter record has put Ocean Wave, Warren Wright's Calumet farm hope, up among the leaders. Ocean Wave won five straight races before losing to Ben F. Whitaker's Pons Pick at New Orleans, but the loss took little luster from the Calumet pride. Ocean Wave carries 126 pounds to 117 for the Whitaker horse but in the Derby all starters will pack 126 pounds.

* * *

Ocean Wave on Trial in Today's Race

By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, March 6—The racing world may learn today whether a colt named Ocean Wave shapes up as tidal surge or a mere ripple in his quest to become a threat to Count Fleet in the Kentucky Derby.

Warren Wright's eye-filling chestnut was entered against seven other three-year-olds in the $15,000, mile and a furlong Louisiana derby. He had to carry 126 pounds in the favored role. His chief rivals figured to be Ben Whitaker's Pons Pick, 116, and Charles T. Fisher's Amber Light, 120. Rounding out the field are Reaping Glory, Noonday Sun, Valdina Way, Joe Burger and Legislator. Joe Burger carries 120 the others 116.

Ocean Wave must beat these fellows decisively if he is to be rated some sort of a menace to such as Count Fleet, Devils Thumb, Blue Swords and Slide Rule in Louisville's trolley-run for the roses May 1. An inexcusable defeat would set him right back among the lesser lights.

Abbott and Costello In Sleuth Roles at Palace

Comedy Stars Perform as Detectives in Murder Mystery Movie, "Who Done It?"

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, [illegible] No. 1 clowns, will [illegible] "Who Done It?" Sunday [illegible] Wednesday at the Palace theater. The story, a murder mystery, finds Bud and Lou in the [illegible] profession of amateur detectives and in turn, on the trail of a tremendous police [illegible]. Action of the plot takes place for the most part, in a [illegible] radio broadcasting station. Methods by which the boys extricate themselves furnish the hilarity.

With George Brent as the gentleman gambler and Priscilla Lane as the charming and beautiful lady gambler, "Silver Queen," which will show Thursday through Saturday, is a portrayal of 1870 society with all its wealth, its loneliness and its zest for life. Miss Lane plays the role of a golden belle and Brent is the polished gentleman with fine manners, gambling proclivities and he-man gusto. Priscilla is a lady who can stand on her own two feet, and she shows it. After the death of her millionaire father, Eugene Pallette, she sets out to pay his debts through her own money-making efforts. These efforts turn out to be card playing, but she makes not only a good looking gambler but a competent one—and raises the funds.

Trouble comes in the form of Bruce Cabot, the villain of the piece, to whom she entrusts this money for her father's creditors, and who uses them for his own purposes.

Also appearing Thursday through Saturday is "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," featuring Allan Jones, Jane Frazee, Gloria Jean, Donald O'Connor and Phil Spitalny's All Girl Orchestra. The film, a story of a soldier on furlough, contains a dozen hit tunes and several dance routines. Peggy Ryan and the Four Step Brothers are also included in the cast.

U. S. FLIERS MEET STRONG FIGHTER FOE AT HAMM

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 6—Crewmen of United States heavy bombers who raided the railway yards at Hamm, Germany, by daylight Thursday—a foray correlated with blasting of Rotterdam's docks—said yesterday the fighter opposition was "about the strongest" they had ever experienced.

Fourteen enemy planes were destroyed by gunners of the Flying Fortresses. Five bombers failed to return.

U. S. headquarters said a great explosion was heard and large fires were seen as the bombers left Hamm, great railway injunction in western Germany.

"The German fighters came in closer than I have ever seen 'em in the movies," said Staff Sgt. Arthur Cessman of Los Angeles, Calif., a gunner. "I could almost have shaken hands with one of those fellows."

First Lieut. Vernon A. Parker of San Antonio, Tex., who formerly flew an RAF Spitfire, said the enemy fighter pilots were "either daring or crazy."

Over Rotterdam the fighter opposition was weak, but anti-aircraft fire was described as heavy and accurate.

Capt. R. E. Schleen of San Francisco also said the German fighters seemed green. "They didn't press their attacks at all," he said. "There was nothing to it."

Donat Star of Ohio Film

Has Title Role in "Young Mr. Pitt," To Be Shown Sunday Through Thursday.

Robert Donat plays the title role in "Young Mr. Pitt," the story of the stirring life and times of Pitt the Younger, as he was called, at the Ohio theater Sunday through Thursday. Pitt's times were as turbulent as ours, his life analogous to that of millions of young Americans today. At 24, he heard his country's call, became the "boy Prime Minister," and sacrificed his one great love to lead his people to victory over the Axis of his day. Phyllis Calvert has the feminine lead and John Mills portrays Pitt's steadfast friend. Robert Morley heads the supporting cast.

Beginning a seven-day engagement Friday is "Flying Tigers," starring John Wayne, John Carroll and Anna Lee. It is a dramatic photoplay presenting the heroic exploits of the American Volunteer Group in defending the Burma road. Wayne, as Jim Gordon, is the earnest young squadron leader of the spectacularly courageous "Flying Tigers." Carroll is seen in the role of Woody Jason, devil-may-care young flier who takes his responsibilities lightly until he is faced with a decisive opportunity of becoming either hero or heel. Anna Lee is seen as Brooke Elliott, the young volunteer nurse whose efforts result in the saving of countless lives among the Chinese evacuees.

ABOVE IS ROBERT DONAT as he is seen in the title role of "Young Mr. Pitt," showing Sunday through Thursday at the Ohio theater.

"The Gay Sisters" On Double Bill At State Theater

Sunday and Monday the State theater will present Barbara Stanwyck and George Brent in "The Gay Sisters." Geraldine Fitzgerald, Donald Crisp and Gig Young head the supporting cast. Don "Red" Barry in "The Cyclone Kid" is the second feature.

George Sanders and Wendy Barrie are starred in "Gay Falcon" which appears Tuesday and Wednesday with "SOS Coast Guard," which features Bela Lugosi and Ralph Byrd.

"Men of San Quentin" is the main attraction Thursday through Saturday. In the top roles are Dick Curtis, Jeffrey Sayre, Art Miles and George Breakston. Buster Crabbe and Al St. John in "Billy the Kid's Smoking Guns" also appears on the bill.

The call of a trumpeter swan can be heard as far as two miles.

Two 'Horror' Films Billed

Lon Chaney and Bela Lugosi in Double Feature at Marion.

The Marion theater will feature two horror dramas Sunday and Monday. Lon Chaney portrays the part of a live mummy in "Mummy's Tomb." Dick Foran, John Hubbard and Elyse Knox head the supporting cast. "Night Monster" is the second attraction. The cast features Bela Lugosi, Lionel Atwill, Lief Erikson and Irene Hervey.

Don Ameche and Joan Bennett are starred in "Girl Trouble," which shows Tuesday and Wednesday. The film's theme is based on the troubles that beset a young South American rubber magnate when he tries to get a contract from the American rubber fire king by employing the aid of a Park avenue beauty. Posing as Ameche's maid, Miss Bennett soon falls in love with him and the trouble begins.

"Dark Command," featuring Claire Trevor, John Wayne and Walter Pidgeon and appearing Tuesday and Wednesday, is the story of an outlaw in Kansas and Missouri during the Civil war.

Thursday through Saturday Florence Rice, John Beal and Margaret Hayes are starred in "Stand By All Networks," the story of a radio news commentator who uncovers sabotage in his news gathering. Completing the double bill is "Under Cover Man," starring William Boyd as Hopalong Cassidy a western film.

Hoover Will Address Governors in Iowa

By The Associated Press

DES MOINES, Ia., March 6—Former President Herbert Hoover will address a conference of cornbelt state governors here March 15, Gov. B. B. Hickenlooper, host to the meeting, announced yesterday.

Governors of 11 states have been invited to discuss manpower, machinery and food production problems in relation to the war effort.

Hoover will speak on "Food Production and Distribution," the governor said.

Galion Church Plans Special Service Sunday

Special to The Star

GALION, March 6—Liquidation of its debt, will be celebrated with a special Thanksgiving service by the congregation of Peace Lutheran church, Sunday.

In 1935 the parish house was dedicated. It was erected at a cost of $30,000, and during the intervening years, while no intensive drive for funds was held, the congregation has come through debt free. When the debt reached the mark of $5,000 by Jan. 1, 1942, the church adopted the slogan "Debt free in '43."

The congregation had previously wiped off a debt of $18,000 in three years when the church was remodelled in 1928.

The observance Sunday opens with Sunday school at 9:15 when special recognition will be paid to two teachers who are resigning from their classes after many years of active service. They are Mrs. C. A. Schaefer and Alice Plack.

At 10:30 a. m. the morning worship hour will be featured with an address by Dr. E. W. Schramm, editor of the "Lutheran Standard" of Columbus.

A picnic dinner in the parish house will be served at 12:30.

Another special hour will be observed at 2:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the parish house when Dr. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor of First Lutheran church, Mansfield, will speak.

Most Fuel Oil Users Keep Homes Above 65 Degrees

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., March 6—Even with the big cuts in fuel oil allowance under rationing, the majority of home owners with oil furnaces are keeping their homes heated above the temperature recommended by the government.

This would indicate that, if war demands make it necessary, oil allowances in some areas could be reduced still further without seriously impairing health.

Of all oil furnace owners interviewed by the Institute in recent weeks throughout the 30 states with fuel oil rationing, 56 per cent say they are keeping occupied rooms in their homes above the 65 degree daytime temperature recommended by the government.

Slightly more than one-third are actually keeping the temperature at 70 degrees or above.

However, the government's campaign for lower temperatures has made headway since the earlier part of the winter. More homes are now heated at 65 degrees or less than was the case in December.

The following table shows the temperature now being maintained in the occupied rooms of homes equipped with oil furnaces in the rationed areas.

HOMES HEATED BY OIL IN RATIONED STATES
(65 degrees recommended)

| | |
|---|---|
| Under 65 degrees at present | 11% |
| At 65 degrees | 33 |
| At 68 degrees | 19 |
| At 70 degrees | 23 |
| Above 70 degrees | 14 |

It will be noted that the total number above 65 degrees is 56 per cent.

A study made in those same states in early December by the Institute showed that 66 per cent were keeping their temperatures above 655 degrees, as compared to 56 per cent today.

The general reaction of oil furnace owners toward the rationing program is favorable. More than two-thirds think the rationing has been handled fairly, as the following survey question reveals.

"Do you think the rationing of fuel oil has been handled fairly in your area?"

The vote among oil furnace owners in the 30 rationed states is:

| | |
|---|---|
| Yes | 68% |
| No | 23 |
| No Opinion | 9 |

Defeated Congressman Named to Labor Board

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6—Former Rep. John M. Houston of Wichita, Kans., was nominated by President Roosevelt yesterday for a $10,000-a-year job as a member of the national labor relations board.

The 52-year-old Kansas Democrat was defeated for reelection last year after serving four terms in the house. He would succeed William M. Leiserson on the NLRB.

Houston was in the retail lumber business in Newton, Kans., for 15 years and served two terms as mayor of that city. He was in the Marine Corps in the last war.

A single British night raid of 1,000 bombers over the Rhineland costs close to 14 million dollars, the largest single item being the cost of the planes lost.

Trading in Domestic Wool Reported Quiet

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, March 6—The Commercial Bulletin said of the wool market today:

"Quiet trading in domestic wool, in eastern and western markets, has prevailed as dealers have waited anxiously for developments on the government marketing program. Boston committee men working with the department of agriculture were back in Washington on Thursday, in the effort to iron out differences in the plan.

"Foreign wools have continued to dominate the marketing here, although in scoureds the demand has been active for all kinds of medium grade. Lack of domestic wool in any volume has kept the emphasis of trading upon imports.

"Some stimulus to wool demand has come from government awards for large quantities of underwear and socks."

The paper published the following unchanged Ohio quotations:

Domestic fleeces—Delaine unwashed 49-50; ½ blood combing 50-51; ⅜ blood combing 53-54; ¼ blood combing 53-54.

PLANE STOCKS LEAD MARKET

Aircrafts Give Issues Stronger Tone in Today's Wall Street Trading.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 6—Aircrafts led stocks on an upward slant today but many issues found themselves stalemated by profit cashing and week-end balancing of accounts.

A majority of the leaders managed to step into the plus column and scattered new highs for the year appeared although there were a few stumbles. Gains held to small fractions to around a point toward the close. Volume for the short session was in the neighborhood of 700,000 shares.

News from major battle fronts was favorable to bullish sentiment and nibbling at peace-rated issues was noted by some brokers.

Rising power was exhibited by Aviation Corp., United Aircraft, Glenn Martin, Sperry, Lockheed, Chrysler, Westinghouse, U. S. Steel, Philip Morris and Kennecott. Laggards included American Telephone, Standard Oil (NJ), American Can and J. I. Case.

Bonds moved narrowly and commodities were higher.

The three 2,000,000-share days this week had been attributed in part to volume of "penny" stocks. There was an increase in turnover in this category today.

LIVE HOG AND CATTLE PRICES MOVE HIGHER

Buyers Cite Squeeze Between Cost and Ceiling.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 6—Live hog and cattle prices moved higher this week and packers, forced to compete with each other and western buyers for the continued light receipts, asserted they were "squeezed" between live costs and meat ceilings.

Hogs climbed to a top of $16.00 per hundredweight Thursday, the highest price in almost 23 years, but fell off 10-20 cents Friday to close the week at a top of $15.85, a gain of 25 cents over last Friday's best prices.

Sharply higher prices had not induced farmers to ship as many hogs to market as had been expected. Allocations for lend-lease and domestic requirements were based on an expected October-March run of about 25 per cent above a year ago, but hog arrivals since last October at principal federally inspected plants have run only about five per cent above the similar preceding period.

The cattle market moved sharply higher on all classes this week. Fed steers and yearlings climbed 25 to 50 cents to a top of $17.40, the second highest on record for March.

Lamb prices also were stimulated by reduced supplies and the closing levels were 10-25 cents above last Friday. The week's top on wooled lambs was $16.60. Slaughter ewes topped at $9.50.

Naval Procurement Officers To Visit Marion

Final arrangements are being completed for the visit to Marion Monday and Tuesday of two representatives of the Detroit branch of the office of naval officer procurement. They are Lieut. Howard and Ensign E. J. Oke, who will be at Hotel Harding from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. both days to interview prospective naval officer candidates. College degrees are not necessary in all cases, years of practical experience being sufficient for a number of appointments.

BENNY HAS PNEUMONIA

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 6—Radio Comedian Jack Benny has a "mild case" of pneumonia but it responding well to treatment, his physician, Dr. L. B. Bernheimer, said today. The cold with which Benny had been suffering for two weeks grew worse this week and he was put to bed in his hotel suite. His Sunday night radio show was cancelled, with George Burns and Gracie Allen to take his place.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"I DON'T THINK you need worry much about that," Katharine said dryly. "Have you ever known the Chief to be late?"

"No, I haven't." I said. Then I took up a magazine and buried myself in it until my father's knock roused me.

"Just three [illegible]," Katharine murmured as I went to the door.

"The federal man didn't call." My father's inflection made his sentence declarative instead of interrogative.

"No one called," I answered, and he took a chair near the telephone, saying "They're usually right on the dot."

Just a second before eight the telephone bell rang and my father took the telephone from its cradle and spoke into it, while Katharine and I breathlessly followed the one-sided conversation.

"This is Spencer," my father said. "Who is this? Harper? Good! Now listen carefully. You know that book which was taken from the library—that important book of which we could find no trace?"

Katharine's eyes met mine in amazement. A child could have told that "book" was a camouflage, and if Milner was listening, as my father had planned, he would believe the conversation related to the important document he thought he had abstracted from Stephen Redfield's shoe while the latter lay unconscious from Noel's blow—the document Milner thought was the same one which had been passed to Redfield, but which was only an ingeniously altered copy made to be useless for the conspirators.

"No," my father said next, "we haven't recovered it, but we have a line on it. We have a very strong suspicion as to who has it, and I think you may assure X that we shall have it back within the week.

On the Trail

"No, the fault doesn't lie with your organization. You may set your mind at rest on that. I haven't found out yet where the leak is, but I'm on the trail, and I would wager much that I'll have the book and the person who now has it in much less than a week. No use promising too much, too soon.

"Yes, I shall be right here if you want to get in touch with me, and if there are any new developments I'll advise you. By the way, this is off the record, and f.t.n. Good-bye."

Katharine and I barely had time to wipe the shocked amazement from our faces before he replaced the telephone and turned toward us. To both of us it had seemed impossible that this could be my father talking thus loquaciously over the telephone; the Chief, famed for his extreme reticence.

"You have good poker faces, both of you," my father said, smiling and in high good humor. "I certainly cannot call yours a telltale face this time, Margaret, but I am sure that you are wondering at my garrulous indiscretion."

"It is not within our province to indulge in conjectures," I told him, and when Katharine paraphrased "Ours never to reason why," he gave one of his rare laughs.

Spencer Explains

"Because you are such good soldiers, I shall explain," he said.

"This performance was staged solely for the benefit of the gifted Mr. Milner, who, I have no doubt, had his ear glued to an extension line all the time.

"I gave Hagner a bad few minutes wondering if senility had overtaken me, but perhaps you noticed my parting words to him?"

"Yes," Katharine and I assented.

"'Off the record' means nothing [illegible] of itself, but was a signal to watch the next few words or letters, and if 'Lee' means 'the leader only.' From that he knew I was staging something solely for the benefit of an eavesdropper, and that he could dismiss the whole thing from his mind."

My father's mood was so genial that I ventured a question.

"Do you think Milner realizes that you know he took the document from Steve's shoe?" I asked.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Poverty and Eating.

AT THIS time, when the Administration, through Secretary Wickard, is urging people to observe a "well-planned nutrition program" and that "malnutrition is not altogether a matter of poverty," the publication of a book by Professor Samuel Glasstone and Violetta Glasstone entitled The Foods You Eat: A Practical Guide to Home Nutrition, is very timely.

The relation of poverty and plenty to sensible eating can be exemplified everywhere. Probably the two classes of Americans who eat the least scientifically are farmers and the rich. The farmer, living in the midst of plenty, subsists on a diet which would make a nutritionist shudder; and as for the rich, I am told by the head of a famous clinic which deals in metabolic disorders that most of his cases of deficiency diseases are found in the ranks of those who are economically in the upper brackets.

Fluctuations in Eating

The rich usually fluctuate between eating too much and getting overweight on the wrong kind of food, succeeded by a period of frenzied attempt to reduce, in which they cut their nutritional intake to such a level and use such peculiar, processed foods that they are on the verge, or actually in the zone of deficiency disease.

The authors believe that the expenditure of $2.50 per person will supply food for one week: this is 35½ cents a day, which looks a little slim, but this is the way it works out:

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

C. S.:—Is it possible for a person to be allergic to cats? It occurs to me that since we got our kitten I have had a persistent cold. Is this only imagination?

Answer: Certainly it is possible for people to be allergic to cats. In fact, one of the first descriptions of allergy is by Henry Hyde Salter, an English physician, who described his own case of asthma due to the proximity of the domestic cat. All his colleagues made fun of the idea, but time has proved that he was right.

Daily Reader:—When a person has had tuberculosis and is cured, is it likely to return, or is the individual immune to tuberculosis?

Answer: The whole answer to this question depends upon the interpretation of the word "cure." Cases of recurrence are not due to lack of immunity, but to an old lesion that was not completely healed, breaking open again.

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, March 7

SUNDAY'S horoscope is a most propitious one for advancing all affairs of a private and business nature. It is especially fortuitous for public, community and group interests or popularity.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year in which all their affairs will expand. Be alert to fraudulent or dubious intrigues or associates. Romance is also to the front with much promise of happiness.

A child born on this day will have many sound talents and creative abilities, which may assure it fulfillment of personal and public ambitions.

* * *

For Monday, March 8

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for moderate success in business and in the good graces of superiors but the stress of the day is found in the social, domestic and affectional relations. There may be celebrations of engagements or marriages or other social affairs.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a particularly happy and prosperous year, with the accent on social and affectional activities. Personal charm and allure are to the fore, but in all be modest, prudent and temperate.

A child born on this day may be inclined to seek the happy-go-lucky sort of life rather than business, and may be showy and prodigal. However, it may prosper.

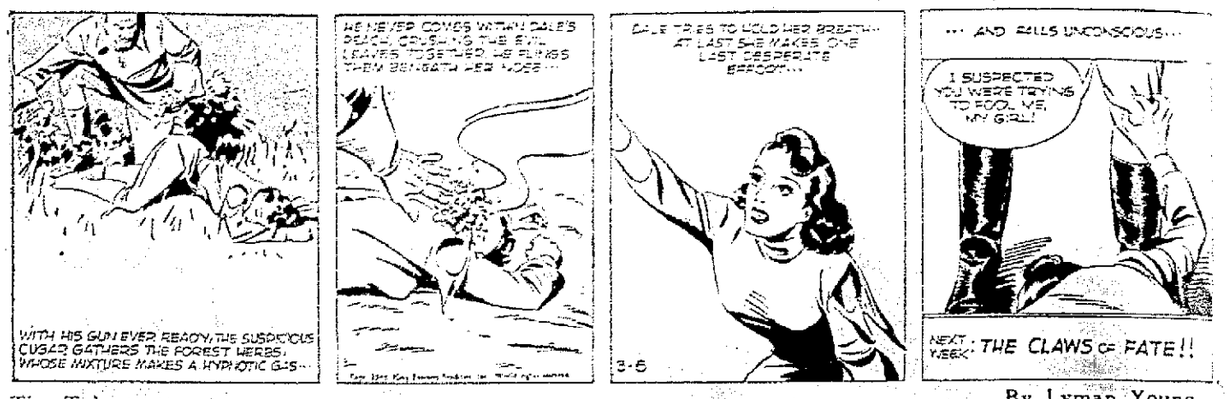
Flash Gordon — By Lyman Young



WITH HIS GUN EVER READY, THE SUSPICIOUS CUSAD GATHERS THE FOREST HERBS, WHOSE MIXTURE MAKES A HYPNOTIC GAS...
HE NEVER COMES WITHIN DALE'S REACH, CRUSHING THE EVIL LEAVES TOGETHER, HE FLINGS THEM BENEATH HER NOSE...
DALE TRIES TO HOLD HER BREATH... AT LAST SHE MAKES ONE LAST DESPERATE EFFORT...
... AND FALLS UNCONSCIOUS...
I SUSPECTED YOU WERE TRYING TO FOOL ME, MY GIRL!
NEXT WEEK: THE CLAWS OF FATE!!

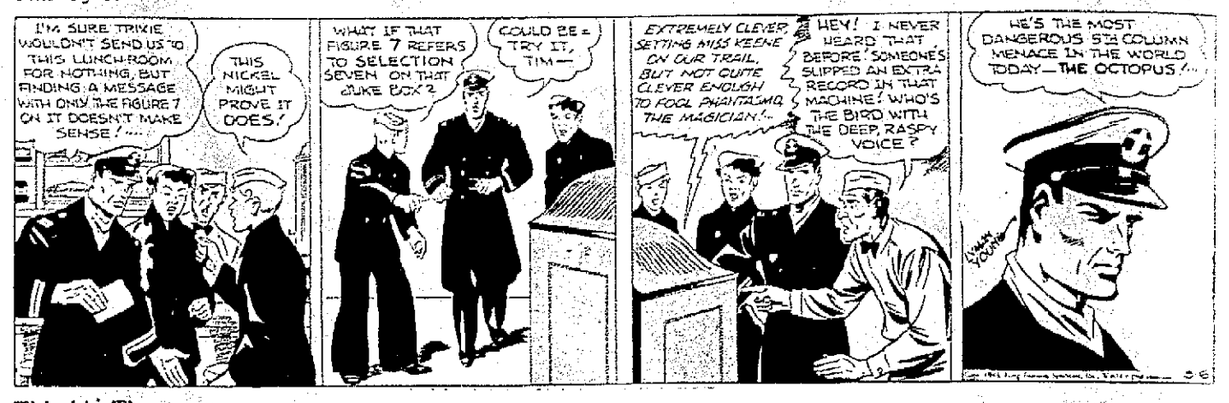
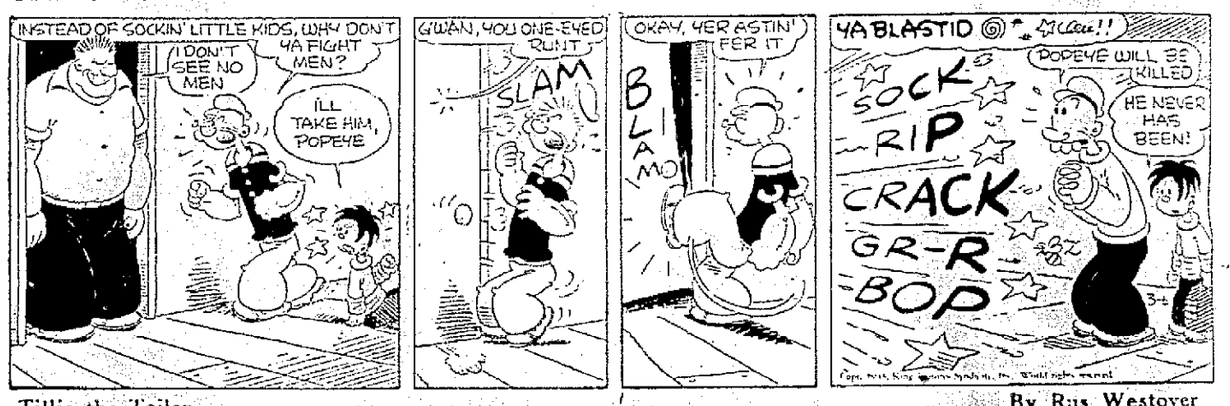
Tim Tyler — By Lyman Young



I'M SURE TRIXIE WOULDN'T SEND US TO THIS LUNCH-ROOM FOR NOTHING, BUT FINDING A MESSAGE WITH ONLY THE FIGURE 7 ON IT DOESN'T MAKE SENSE!...
THIS NICKEL MIGHT PROVE IT DOES!
WHAT IF THAT FIGURE 7 REFERS TO SELECTION SEVEN ON THAT JUKE BOX?
COULD BE—TRY IT, TIM—
EXTREMELY CLEVER SETTING MISS KEENE ON OUR TRAIL, BUT NOT QUITE CLEVER ENOUGH TO FOOL PHANTASMO, THE MAGICIAN!...
HEY! I NEVER HEARD THAT BEFORE! SOMEONE'S SLIPPED AN EXTRA RECORD IN THAT MACHINE! WHO'S THE BIRD WITH THE DEEP, RASPY VOICE?
HE'S THE MOST DANGEROUS 5TH COLUMN MENACE IN THE WORLD TODAY—THE OCTOPUS!...

Thimble Theater — By Lyman Young



Tillie the Toiler — By Rus Westover

OH, MAC, PLEASE COME ON OVER, I NEED SOMEONE TO TALK TO TILLIE IS LOW SINCE SHE BROKE HER ENGAGEMENT TO BILL... I'LL HAVE TO CHEER HER UP AND GET HER MIND OFF IT
BUY ANOTHER ROAD TODAY
MAC, YOU KNOW HOW THINGS HAVE BEEN GOING WITH ME—I'VE JUST GOT TO TALK WITH SOMEONE AND UNLOAD MY TROUBLES
BUT, TILLIE
NOW, DON'T INTERRUPT, MAC, IT'S RUDE
SAY, YOU DON'T WANT SOMEONE TO TALK TO—YOU JUST WANT SOMEONE TO LISTEN

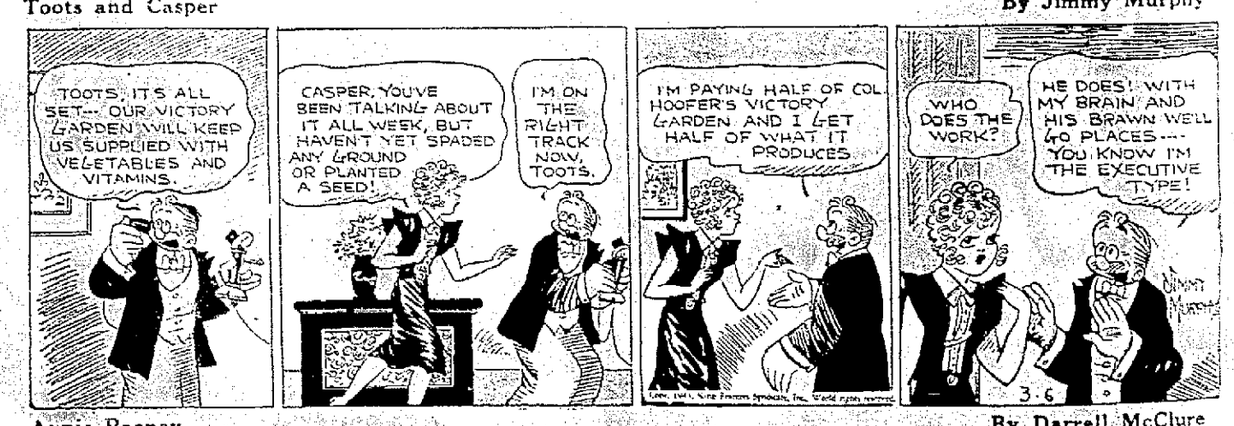
Toots and Casper — By Jimmy Murphy



TOOTS, IT'S ALL SET— OUR VICTORY GARDEN WILL KEEP US SUPPLIED WITH VEGETABLES AND VITAMINS.
CASPER, YOU'VE BEEN TALKING ABOUT IT ALL WEEK, BUT HAVEN'T YET SPADED ANY GROUND OR PLANTED A SEED!
I'M ON THE RIGHT TRACK NOW, TOOTS.
I'M PAYING HALF OF COL. HOOFER'S VICTORY GARDEN AND I GET HALF OF WHAT IT PRODUCES WHO DOES THE WORK?
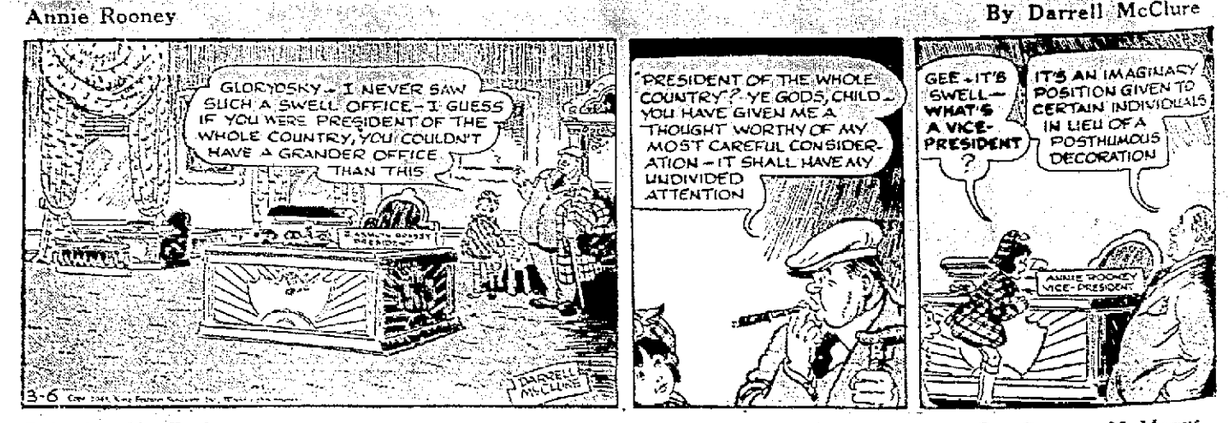
HE DOES! WITH MY BRAIN AND HIS BRAWN WE'LL GO PLACES— YOU KNOW I'M THE EXECUTIVE TYPE!
3-6

Annie Rooney — By Darrell McClure



GLORYOSKY—I NEVER SAW SUCH A SWELL OFFICE—I GUESS IF YOU WERE PRESIDENT OF THE WHOLE COUNTRY, YOU COULDN'T HAVE A GRANDER OFFICE THAN THIS
"PRESIDENT OF THE WHOLE COUNTRY"? YE GODS, CHILD— YOU HAVE GIVEN ME A THOUGHT WORTHY OF MY MOST CAREFUL CONSIDERATION—IT SHALL HAVE MY UNDIVIDED ATTENTION
GEE—IT'S SWELL—WHAT'S A VICE-PRESIDENT?
IT'S AN IMAGINARY POSITION GIVEN TO CERTAIN INDIVIDUALS IN LIEU OF A POSTHUMOUS DECORATION
ANNIE ROONEY VICE-PRESIDENT
